SICILY AIR BATTLES

More 'Planes for Italy

GERMAN News Agency stated last night that Field-Marshal von Richthofen has been appointed to a post in Southern Italy.

Yesterday's North African communiqué stated that air attacks were continued on landing grounds in Italy, and Allied bombers on Monday inflicted damage on Marsala, Licata, Gerbini and Sciacca. Over 100 Axis fighters were encountered over Gerbini, and the communiqué claimed that in the ensuing battle Flying Fortresses destroyed 30 aircraft. The previous night Allied bombers raided targets in Sicily and Sardinia and, says the Allied statement, during the period under review the Axis lost 42 machines and the Allies 12.

Warships Leave Gibraltar

ALL battleships and aircraft carriers have now left the port of Gibraltar, said German Radio last night. "Twelve ships returned in ballast in a convoy from the Mediterranean today," it added.

"There are now 46 merchant vessels in the port ready to sail and six hospital ships getting ready to leave for the Mediterranean."—(Reuter.)

DAY RAID

The Middle East air communiqué said that Messina was raided in daylight by formations of U.S. heavy bombers. U.S. headquarters adds that in this raid 775,000 pounds of high explosive were dropped and extensive damage was caused.

The Italian communiqué states that Bizerta was bombed by German 'planes, and claims that in raids on Messina, Trapani and Marsala the Allies lost altogether 51 'planes.

Reuter's special correspondent in North Africa states that the battle over Gerbini Airfield between the Flying Fortresses and the curtain of 100 Me's and Fw's was the greatest yet seen in Sicily. There were fewer than 30 Flying Fortresses, and the fight lasted fifteen minutes. The correspondent adds that the destruction of 30 of the Axis fighters paralysed the Axis defence for the rest of the day. "Dog fights" continued well out to sea.

German Radio stated last night: "Any landing on Crete by sea or air is equally impossible. The island has been transformed into a fortress bristling with guns, and into an important springboard for the Luftwaffe."—(Reuter and Press Association.)

A Sofia despatch to the Giornale d'Italia stated that the greater part of the British Eighth Army was now concentrated in Iraq, Iran and Syria. General Montgomery was reported to be in Baghdad.

Hotel Fire Victim Dies

Badly burnt in the fire which destroyed the Harp Hotel, Cahirciveen, County Kerry, Mr. Timothy J. O'Connell, proprietor, died at the residence of his brother-in-law.

The deceased man was one of Kerry's leading business men. His son, who was also injured in the fire, is recovering.

John Fitzharris (57), 10 Hope street, Ringsend, collapsed and died in South Great George's street yesterday afternoon. The remains were taken to Mercer's Hospital.

ICE CREAM PRODUCTION REDUCED

IRELAND'S three largest ice-cream manufacturers have been forced to cut their production by ten per cent., although they are facing a summer which so far has broken all consumption records by fifty per cent.

The reason is that their reserve stocks of sugar are running low—so low, in fact, that prospects for next year are very bad. Applications for increased rations have so far been unsuccessful, and there is not much hope of any improvement this summer.

Consumption has been increased by three factors—(a) shortage and price of sweets; (b) shortage and price of fruit, and (c) influx of visitors from Northern Ireland and Great Britain, where the manufacture of ice-cream has been prohibited for some time.

"One important aspect of this crisis is that ice-cream is one of the only sweets that children can buy for a penny now," commented Mr. John Craigie, jun., controller of Merville Dairy's ice-cream factory, to an Irish Times reporter yesterday. "There is a fair percentage of sugar in ice-cream, too, and they need all the sugar they can get," he added.

Many small producers who managed to keep going last year have had to approach the wholesalers this summer — but few have been supplied. "We must give our old customers first preference," explained a member of the trade.

Eight Shot Down in British Sweeps!

In an offensive sweep over Northern France yesterday British Spitfires destroyed eight German fighters without loss. The Air Ministry News Service says that the seven fighters were brought down by pilots of a Canadian and Polish wing of the R.A.F., says Press Association.

Fierce Fighting on the Russian Front

HEAVY TANK AND 'PLANE LOSSES

LATEST messages from the Russian front report the destruction, since Monday, of more than 1,000 Axis tanks. Over 800 of them have been knocked out in the first round of the big battle raging for Kursk, Russian stronghold between Orel and Kharkov, Reuter reports. The messages indicate that this is the biggest individual attack which has yet taken place on the Soviet front.

Dive-Bombers

The Germans are throwing in hundreds of dive-bombers in waves of 20 and 30 at a time, and their guns and mortars, it is reported, are laying down a terrific non-stop barrage on the Soviet lines.

Big Losses in Infantry

Though German tanks have succeeded in penetrating into the depth of the defences at two or three points, Soviet infantry, Reuter reports, are cutting off the following German infantry. The Germans lost nearly 10,000 men in one day, it is claimed, not counting wounded evacuated to the rear. The double thrust against the Kursk bulge extends in a giant semi-circle, with a radius of 50 miles, centred on the town of Kursk; and the Germans are trying to protect their left flank by staging a secondary attack south-west of Mtsensk, north of Orel. In the southern Byelgorod sector the attack is developing along a 40-mile front. At one point the German thrust was strong enough to capture two villages, but these were subsequently retaken by the Russians, it is claimed.

"TIGER" TANKS AT OREL

"TIGER" tanks were used for the first time on the Soviet front when the Germans threw 200 Panzers into their main attack on the Orel-Kursk sector. The rear was supported by waves of lighter tanks. Most of the "Tigers" were badly mauled by long-range Soviet guns and forced to turn back to their starting point. But on a neighbouring sector the Germans drove a wedge into the Soviet lines with about 100 tanks.—(Reuter.)

The result of the first days of fighting cannot be regarded as decisive. No large-scale breakthrough has been made, though the attackers had all the advantages of superior forces concentrated at one point. Even if a large proportion of the 800 damaged tanks are repaired with the customary German speed, another two days of this sort of fighting will blunt the power of the Axis attack considerably. It is impossible to gauge at the moment which way the battle will go, but it may be noted that the Soviet defence, depending on numbers and mobility, is proving very effective.

During the fighting the sky was full of Soviet fighters, including the latest model of the Yak-7, which, it is claimed, played havoc with successive waves of dive-bombers.

AXIS REPORT

Fierce Russian attacks at Byelgorod, where fighting on Monday developed into a great battle, were reported by the German News Agency. "Throughout the day," the Agency said, "the Soviets threw in new divisions and tank brigades, which, supported by whole regiments of Stormovik aircraft, stormed the German lines to recapture a height and the adjoining sectors on either side.

"South of Orel heavy fighting flared up on a broad front and, at first, it seemed as if the enemy would be able to carry off a major victory in this sector. But he was so severely mauled by fire from the German guns and automatic weapons that he was first held immediately in front of the main German line, and then driven back to his initial positions by counter-attack."

A Berlin radio commentator said: "The Soviets seem to have suffered high tank losses. One German anti-tank detachment destroyed 38 tanks within a few hours. The battle continues, with both sides throwing in more reserves. At the moment no final picture can be drawn. The German main lines are still in German hands at all points. Nowhere have the Soviets succeeded in penetrating into the German positions."

COMMUNIQUE

The Moscow communiqué issued last night states:—"During July 6th the Soviet forces in the Orel-Kursk and Byelgorod directions continued fighting against strong German forces of tanks and infantry. According to incomplete data our troops in one day's fighting in the Orel-Kursk and Orel-Byelgorod directions destroyed or damaged 433 German tanks, while 111 enemy aircraft were shot down in air combat and by our ground defences, bringing the total German losses since early Monday to 1,019 tanks and 314 'planes."

Senate Nominees

The following further nominations for the Senate elections have been made:—

Agricultural Panel—J. J. Counihan, Ballyboughal, Co. Dublin; J. J. Murphy, Montenotte, Cork.

Cultural and Educational Panel—Messrs. R. M. Fox and J. Dennigan, nominated by the National Union of Journalists; Professor Liam O Buachalla and J. J. O'Reilly, nominated by Westmeath V.E. Committee; W. Ellis and Senator J. Crosbie, nominated by Cork County V.E. Committee; Professor O Buachalla and An Fear Mor, Waterford, nominated by Clare V.E. Committee.

Cork County Committee also decided to request An Taoiseach to nominate Mr. E. O'Neill, ex-T.D., and Mr. C. Meaney, ex-T.D.

Clare Comhairle Dail Ceanntair of Fianna Fail has requested Mr. de Valera to appoint Mr. P. J. O'Loughlen, ex-T.D., to the Senate. Nomination is also requested for Mr. T. J. Keane, Secretary of the Fianna Fail organisation in Co. Clare.

The National Executive Council of the Licensed Grocers' and Vintners' Association have nominated Mr. J. Maguire, Bulloch Castle, Dalkey, and Mr. W. Russell, Dundalk. Mr. M. Gleeson, Chairman, Limerick Section, withdrew in favour of Messrs. Maguire and Russell.

South Africa to Decide Future Role in War

A million and a quarter voters go to the polls to-day to elect a new South African Parliament, the culmination of the strangest election campaign in the country's history, says Reuter's Capetown correspondent.

After nearly four years of war the country is going to decide whether it will remain in the fight with the United Nations against the Axis Powers or don neutral garb. That is the main and only immediate issue at stake, with the Opposition demanding an end of the "British connection," the establishment of a Republic and withdrawal from the war.

It is not expected, says Reuter, that the Opposition's election cry will find much response except from those of its followers who have all along been hostile to the Government's war policy and to any friendly association with Britain.

In the last Parliament the Coalition Government enjoyed a majority of 21 over the Opposition—87 seats to 66. Principal Opposition group is the Nationalist (Republican) Party, led by Dr. D. F. Malan, who has told the electorate that if he was returned to power he would make peace with the Axis.

Penal Servitude for Athlone Cashier

James G. O'Connor (34), Main street, Athlone, cashier to General Textiles, Ltd., who pleaded guilty at Mullingar Circuit Court yesterday to the embezzlement of £1,750 belonging to the company, was sentenced to three years' penal servitude.

The offences, it was stated, extended from 1940 to 1943, but most of the money was taken in 1942. For the defence it was said that the defendant was instrumental in building up the L.D.F. He was on the District Staff, and this necessitated mixing with a lot of company.

Judge Gleeson said that the accused man probably dispensed too much hospitality when in congenial company, and forgot his sense of responsibility.

Murderer Escapes on Execution Day

A Reuter message from Bermuda states that Harry Sousa escaped from Hamilton Jail yesterday within two hours of the time he was to be hanged for the murder of Miss Margaret Stapleton, an English censor, on July 6, 1941.

During fifteen minutes that he was left unwatched by his two special guards he wriggled through a tiny window into the main prison yard and climbed over a thirty-foot wall to freedom.

Child Falls Thirty-five Feet

Eamonn McNiece (3½) fell thirty-five feet from a balcony in the Pearse street flats, Dublin, where he lives, to the yard beneath, yesterday afternoon. He was taken to Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital suffering from shock and slight injuries, and was later discharged.

HEAVY SEA BATTLE IN KULA GULF

U.S. Destroyer Torpedoed

A UNITED States Navy communiqué in Washington last night confirmed an earlier report of a naval battle between U.S. and Japanese warships in the Kula Gulf, near New Georgia island, and stated that, while considerable damage was inflicted on the Japanese, United States ships suffered some damage, and a destroyer was lost.

The communiqué stated:—

"U.S. warships inflicted considerable damage on Japanese warships in a brief sea battle in Kula Gulf to-day.

"Some damage was suffered by United States ships," the communiqué adds. "The destroyer Strong was torpedoed and sunk by a Japanese submarine on the night of July 4-5."

The communiqué said that on Sunday night the U.S. destroyer, Strong, was torpedoed and sunk while bombarding Japanese positions on New Georgia island. On Monday evening Army Liberators attacked installations on Ballale island, in the Shortlands, starting fires. Twelve Zeros, which attempted to intercept, were driven off without loss.

Reporting that "U.S. surface task force engaged Japanese surface units in Kula Gulf, off New Georgia island," the communiqué added:—

"Sufficient details have not been received to give the results of this engagement, but it is believed that, while some damage was suffered by the U.S. force, considerable damage was inflicted on the enemy."

SWEDISH COMMENT

SWEDISH military observers believe that the fighting in the Kursk-Byelgorod sector represents a limited German offensive aimed at gaining local advantages before the Allies strike in the west. If the Germans could flatten out the Kursk "bulge" it would shorten the front line by about 70 miles and give them a strong straight line from Orel to Donetz.—(Reuter.)

According to authoritative quarters, says a Reuter telegram from Washington yesterday, heavy forces are engaged on both sides. The action presumably began with an attempt by Japanese warships to intercept the American Fleet which bombarded Vila, on the coast of Kolombangara, and Bairoko, on the New Georgian coast.

The immediate result of the present action may determine the fate of Munda, New Georgia's northern airfield, which Allied bombers have been hammering, by severing Japanese supply lines from Kolombangara. The Americans already control the western and southern approaches to New Georgia. A major victory in the Kula Gulf would complete the encirclement of this strategic island.

After four days' savage fighting, American forces have taken Vangunu Island at the eastern extremity of the 700-mile south-west Pacific front, says Reuter's special correspondent at Allied Headquarters, South-West Pacific.

These are the outstanding developments in the Pacific offensive. At the western end of the front a powerful force of Michell bombers has plastered Japanese positions near Salanaua, in New Guinea. Since the big offensive started 165 Japanese aircraft have been destroyed over the New Georgia group for the loss of 31 Allied 'planes.

Colonel Frank Knox, U.S. Navy Secretary, told 10,000 Navy Yard workers yesterday at Bremerton, Washington, that he had received word that "the Japanese have taken a damned good licking." He did not amplify his statement.—(Reuter.)

Mr. Churchill's Tribute to Sikorski

Mr. Churchill paid tribute yesterday in the British House of Commons to the memory of General Sikorski, whom he described as "the embodiment of that spirit which has borne the Polish nation through centuries of sorrow and is unquenchable by agony."

The Prime Minister said: "General Sikorski was a man of remarkable pre-eminence, both as statesman and soldier. His agreement with Marshal Stalin on July 30, 1941, was an outstanding example of his political wisdom. We British here and throughout the Commonwealth and Empire—who declared war on Germany because of the invasion of Poland, in fulfilment of our guarantee—feel deeply for our Polish Allies in their new loss. We express our sympathy and we proclaim our resolve that Sikorski's work as Prime Minister and Commander-in-Chief shall not have been done in vain."

Mr. Churchill expressed the House's sympathy with Madame Sikorski, who lives in England, and also with the relatives of Colonel Cazalet, M.P., and Brigadier-General Whiteley, M.P. for Buckingham, who also lost his life in the crash. For twelve months, in 1921-22, Brigadier-General Whiteley was on the staff of the Intelligence Branch, G.H.Q. in Ireland.

One of the 'plane crash victims has been identified as Mr. W. H. Lock, who represented the British Minister of War Transport in the Persian Gulf area. The name of another victim is given as Mr. Pinder.

Morocco Radio stated early to-day:—"Martinique has just joined the Giraud-de Gaulle Committee."—(Reuter.)

Our External Trade and Internal Finance Reviewed

"STUDY of trade and other statistics suggests that the economic interests of Great Britain and of Ireland are complementary in the sense that every £100 credit to Eire in respect of exports to the United Kingdom will be expended in the United Kingdom for the purchase of raw materials, semi-manufactured goods, machinery and implements, and, in a decreasing degree, consumption goods. There will, of course, be larger markets for the British exporter of capital goods elsewhere, but there will be few markets to which he will have easier access than the Irish market.

"Exports from Eire in the past have been, and, no doubt, for some time will continue to be, principally agricultural produce. From every point of view it is in the interest of the United Kingdom that after the war an increased volume of Irish foodstuffs should be consumed in Great Britain. From the Irish point of view, Eire's future prosperity is largely bound up with that of the agricultural community, and Irish agriculture can expand only through exports."

This is the view of Mr. Sean Lemass, Minister for Supplies and Industry and Commerce, expressed in an article on the external trade of Eire—one of a number which give a survey of the financial and economic situation—appearing in the July issue of "The Banker."

REVENUE

In a review of the internal financial structure, interesting facts are given by Mr. S. T. O'Kelly, Minister for Finance, who states that the Government, since the emergency began, have endeavoured to steer an even course between the twin dangers of oppressive taxation and unrestricted borrowing. His comments on the revenue position indicate that the most valuable tax, in spite of the war-time trade obstacles, is customs, which is expected this year to bring in £11,000,000, of which no less than 8½ millions will come from tobacco, which, with beer and spirits, produced £13,976,000 last year, or 42.7 per cent. of the total tax revenue. On the inland revenue side the most important tax—income tax—yielded last year 9½ millions, and this year it is put down at £10,619,000, or £11,194,000 if surtax and supertax are included.

Touching upon the Government's method of dealing with taxation on emergency profits, Mr. O'Kelly describes the modification of the excess corporation profits tax to meet substantially increased profits, and says that the tax, apart from the rate of charge, is higher in general incidence than the United Kingdom excess profits tax, since it provides probably a better choice of profits for standard profits, and makes a substituted percentage standard directly available for all companies, and the minimum of £2,500 affords a generous standard to the small company. Receipts from the tax rose from little more than half a million in 1940-41 to £2,760,000 last year, and the estimate for the current year is £3,243,000.

EXPENDITURE

On the expenditure side, Mr. O'Kelly emphasises the drain of emergency expenditure, principally the Army and allied services, social services and unemployment schemes and assistance, which, with the exploitation of native resources and education, will cost this year £29,313,000, exclusive of administrative expenses, out of a total of £41,096,000 anticipated revenue. The cost of the special services to meet the emergency now reaches 12 millions. Since 1928 expenditure on Supply Services has risen from £28,260,000 in a 33 millions total to 38 millions in a total of 43 millions.

Vivid Story of the Mount St. Shooting

THE story of Sunday afternoon's Dublin gun affray, in which John Laurence Griffith (23), Pigeon House Fort road, Dublin, an escaped prisoner, was shot dead by a detective after he had fired on a patrol car, was told at the inquest in Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital, Dublin, yesterday.

A jury returned a verdict of death from shock and hæmorrhage following a gunshot wound inflicted by a bullet fired by a detective at Lower Mount street in the execution of his duty.

Counsel for the Attorney-General said that Griffith, who escaped from Mountjoy with five other men on March 13, 1942, was wanted for complicity in the shooting of George Hill at Ringsend on the night of June 1 last, and in the attempted armed robbery of a Dublin Corporation rent office on June 16 last.

IDENTIFIED

The shooting was described by a detective-sergeant, who said that he was in charge of a car which patrolled Ringsend and Sandymount in search of Griffith and others. Driving along Lower Mount street, in the direction of the city, he saw Griffith cycling in front, but passed him to make sure. Witness went on: "Griffith shot past the car, which was travelling slowly in a bid to squeeze him against the kerb. I changed to second gear, accelerated, and closed in on him after he had got 100 yards away. When I was within four yards he drew a revolver, swung round and fired a shot which hit the rim of the left head lamp and lodged in the radiator. He steadied himself and appeared to be turning round as if to fire again, when the man beside me fired two shots from a Thompson sub-machine gun.

"One of the shots struck Griffith, who lost control of the bicycle and fell on his face, the revolver flying from his hand. He was immediately attended by a priest, but had died before he reached Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital. A revolver holster and extra ammunition were found on his person."

FATAL SHOT

A detective told how he hung his Thompson sub-machine gun from the window of the car, after Griffith had fired and discharged two shots. Griffith swerved and fell on the roadway.

Dr. Lorna D'Abreu, House Surgeon in Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital, who performed a post-mortem examination, expressed the opinion that Griffith had died from shock and hæmorrhage, following entrance and exit bullet wounds in the abdomen and back.

Mr. R. J. McLoughlin, K.C., who (instructed by Mr. R. P. Humphries, Chief State Solicitor's Office) appeared for the Attorney-General, said: "It is a matter of regret that this young man should pit himself so desperately against the recognised forces of law and order, but there it is. He chose to use force of an extreme kind against his lawful apprehension, force of an extreme kind, with a deadly weapon, which might have resulted in the death of one or more of the detective officers concerned in enforcing law. The guardians of the law—no less so the people—are entitled, if not in duty bound, to resist force with force, to defend themselves and effect the arrest of a dangerous enemy to the security, peace and well-being of the State."

James Leonard, a cousin of Griffith, who had previously identified the body, at this stage asked for an adjournment of the inquest, saying he was not legally represented. The Coroner (Dr. D. A. MacErlean) told him that the inquest could not be adjourned.

Later in the evening the remains of John Griffith were removed from the hospital

Mystery of Cavan Woman's Death

Mrs. Fanny Boyle, an eighty-year-old widow, of Ballynamona, Bailieboro', Co. Cavan, was found unconscious in her bedroom on Monday evening. She died shortly afterwards without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Lily Hand, a neighbour, who was in the habit of calling to the labourer's cottage in which Mrs. Boyle lived alone, discovered her, in her night attire, unconscious and with severe head injuries. Mrs. Hand sent a message to the Guards at Bailieboro', three miles distant.

When Superintendent O'Neill and the Guards arrived on the scene, Mrs. Boyle was still alive. She died within fifteen minutes.

It is understood that a man has been detained by the Guards.

Increased Live Stock Rates

The Irish Live Stock Exporters' and Traders' Association, at their meeting at Prosperity Chambers, Upper O'Connell street, Dublin, last night, appointed Messrs. L. Ferris, J. T. Keogh, P. Donnelly, M. Bermingham, J. D. Sheridan and John Sheridan as representatives to attend the conference which is being arranged by Dublin Corporation in regard to the site of the Dublin Cattle Market.

The association protested against the proposed increased live stock rates by the G.S.R. Co.

The chairman, Mr. J. Carroll, said that the increases ranged from 18 to 25 per cent. according to mileage.

French Paper Suspended

The British Ministry of Supply yesterday revoked the paper licence granted to the publishers of the De Gaullist newspaper, La Marseillaise, which was published in London. The decision, the Press Association learns, has been reached because the British Government consider that, as the French in North Africa have now coalesced, there is no need for separate newspapers. An explanation of the reasons for stopping publication will be given in the British Commons on the next sitting day

Derrick Fisher jumping 5' 1" to win the "Under 16" High Jump at St. Columba's College Sports yesterday.

Importance Of Eire's Post-war Bacon Trade

IT was necessary that the bacon industry should be virile and strong to take its part in the world markets after the war, and against overwhelming competition, said Mr. John O'Brien, general secretary of the Federated Union of Employers, at yesterday's sitting of the Wages Advisory Tribunal, sitting in Dublin.

Mr. O'Brien opposed, on behalf of the employers, an application for an 8s. bonus in respect of skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled workers in the bacon-curing industry.

It was, he said, one of the most important industries in the country, and it had a very flourishing past. It was reasonable to assume that post-war reconstruction would involve new factories, efficiency of production and speed of distribution.

OUTPUT

Having suggested that if the 8s. bonus were granted the employers would apply to the Minister for permission to recoup themselves, Mr. O'Brien outlined the position of the industry. In 1940 the number of pigs killed and cured in the factories was 1,099,387; in 1941 the number fell to 827,078; in 1942 to 354,363, and during the past six months to 123,454. Assuming that matters remained as they were the output for 1943 would be in the region of 250,000, showing a falling off from 1940 of about 75 per cent.

Mr. O'Brien stressed the need for both employers and employés to nurse the industry, and pointed out that the export figure for 1940 stood at £3,640,000. To-day it was nil. They wanted to jump back to the figure of three and a half millions after the war.

Replying for the workers, Mr. Thomas Kennedy, President of the Irish Transport Workers' Union, emphasised the sacrifices that had been made by the workers to keep the industry going. In one of the best known centres the workers were giving 8s. per week to the unemployment fund. The position was: How far would the consuming public be affected, and Mr. O'Brien had answered that question himself. He had held that it would mean 2s. per cwt. increase, or less than ¼d. per lb.

Sabotage Attempt in Crete

German Radio, quoting an International Information Bureau report last night, said that a sabotage attempt on a German aerodrome on Crete failed owing to the vigilance of the guards.—(A.P.)

An air raid alert lasting 45 minutes was sounded in Sofia on Monday night, says the Hungarian Telegraph Bureau. No bombs were dropped.—(Reuter.)

SURVEY OF COTTAGES Starts in Co. Dublin

IN 1935, when the Folklore Commission required a survey of cottages in Connacht, they had to go to Swedish Universities to find trained workers to undertake the task. For the last two weeks work of this kind has been done voluntarily in and around Lusk, Co. Dublin, by students of University College, Dublin.

The project is sponsored by the Folklore Commission, the Royal Irish Academy, and the Irish Antiquities Section of the National Museum. A grant was secured from the Commission and another from the Academy, and this, with a contribution by the students, has sufficed to finance the project.

Two weeks ago they went into camp at Glebe House, where facilities were kindly given by the Rector of Lusk, the Rev. P. Quigley, a notable Gaelic scholar. Twenty-five old thatched houses in and around the village were selected for recording. The students, with the co-operation of the residents, have been busy measuring, map-making, and doing pencil and water-colour drawings of their subjects. They have also noted peculiarities of the houses, their fixtures and their history.

Drawings have been collected, and it is expected that when complete they will be exhibited publicly in Dublin.

One of the sponsors of the Lusk scheme stated it would help to give a rural bias to the education of young architects, also a stimulus to public interest in our cultural heritage.

TO-DAY'S DAIL MEETING

There are eight questions for Ministers on the Order Paper of the Dail for to-day.

One of these, by Deputy W. Norton, asks the Minister for Justice whether, in view of the fact that a number of untried prisoners are on hunger strike for a long period and are in a critical condition, the Minister will order their immediate release?

Deputies P. Finucane (Far) and D. J. Flanagan (M.R.) have tabled the following motion:—"That is is the opinion of Dail Eireann that it is unjust and not in accord with Christian principles that a number of Irish citizens, some of whom are at present on hunger strike, should be interned without charge or trial, and that, in the interests of justice and national unity, all such prisoners should be released forthwith."

The chief business will be a motion by the Minister for Finance for a vote on account amounting to £8,423,000. Deputies McGilligan and Hughes have tabled an amendment to reduce the amount by £1,000. This will afford opportunity for a debate which will probably last the entire day and, perhaps, portion of Thursday.

The other motion is for the first reading of the Emergency Powers (Continuance) Bill to extend the period of operation of the Emergency Powers Act.

Convicts Refuse to Wear Prison Clothes

Twenty convicts in Belfast Prison, refusing to wear prison clothes until they are recognised as political prisoners, have wrapped themselves in blankets.

At Stormont yesterday evening Mr. Lowry, Northern Ireland Minister of Home Affairs, said: "They will not coerce the prison authorities and the Minister of Home Affairs into granting them political treatment by simply refusing to wear prison clothes."

THIS PLAN WILL BRING YOU £240 A YEAR FOR LIFE FROM AGE 55

Most men have to provide for their own future. They have no rich relative to take the burden from their shoulders, and no business pension scheme to fall back upon. They stand or fall on their own efforts.

Are you satisfied with the progress you yourself are making? Have you saved anything like enough to justify a belief that at 55 years of age you will be in a position to take things more easily? What about your family should you, on whom they depend, be taken from them? The plan about to be explained, if adopted without further delay, will relieve you of all anxiety about the matter.

It is the best, the easiest and the surest way of providing both for your own later years and for your dependents.

Assuming your age to be 35 and you would like to provide for a private income of £240 a year for life commencing at age 55, this is how the plan works out. You make monthly, quarterly, half-yearly or yearly deposits of an agreed sum to the Sun Life of Canada, the great Annuity Company, and you get in return:

£240 a Year for Life

At 55 years of age the Sun Life of Canada will start paying you an income for life of £240 per annum, and you'll receive this income every year as long as you live. Or, if you prefer it, you can have £3,525, plus profits, in lieu of the pension.

Income Tax Saved

For every deposit you make you receive rebate of Income Tax—a concession which will save you a considerable sum during the period. This is additional profit on the transaction.

£2,000 for Your Family

Should you not live to the age of 55, £2,000, plus accumulated profits, will be paid to your family.

Any Age, Any Amount

Though 35 and £240 a year for life have been quoted here, the plan may be varied to suit other ages and to provide larger or smaller incomes. WHATEVER AMOUNT YOU CAN SAVE (FROM £1 A MONTH) FOR YOUR OWN AND FAMILY'S FUTURE, this plan is the safest and most profitable you can adopt.

The Plan is Flexible

Supposing that after making deposits for two years or more you found yourself temporarily unable to continue, there is provision to help you. The Company would, in that event, automatically advance your overdue deposit and keep the plan in force, allowing you a certain time to bring your deposits up to date. The longer the plan has been in force the longer this time would be.

£215,000,000 Assets

The Sun Life of Canada has assets of over £215,000,000. It is the largest Company of the British Empire transacting Life Assurance solely. Do not hesitate, therefore, to send for particulars of this plan, which may mean great things for you and yours.

SIX INQUESTS IN DUBLIN

Six inquests were held in Dublin city and county yesterday, and Dr. MacErlean (City Coroner) presided over five of them—two at Jervis Street Hospital in the afternoon.

At the first he recorded that Patrick Stack, Killester, Dublin, who was found at his home last Friday with a tea cosy over his head and a tube attached to the gas oven in his mouth, had died from asphyxia, following the inhalation of carbon monoxide. Having heard evidence that Stack had been attending a doctor and had been very depressed over the death of his son in England, the Coroner added: "I am satisfied that his mind was upset at the time and that he did not know what he was doing."

Dr. MacErlean held an inquest into the death of Thomas Staunton, a 50-year-old dairyman, of Clontarf road, Dublin, who died in Jervis Street Hospital on Friday from heart failure. He had been in the hospital suffering from a fractured hip, but, as there was no evidence to show whether or not his injury had accelerated his death, a verdict of death from heart failure was returned.

The story of how two children died was told in Temple Street Hospital, where Dr. MacErlean decided that two-year-old Edward Dunphy, of Blackhall place, died from injuries received when he was knocked down by a motor lorry near his home, and that Noel Erdis, who was found in the Royal Canal last Friday, had died accidentally. He exonerated the driver of the lorry which struck Dunphy.

A verdict that death was due to asphyxia, following immersion in water, was recorded by Dr. J. P. Brennan (County Coroner) at an inquest held in Londonbridge Road Morgue on Patrick Bowley, Galway, who was found last Sunday in the Grand Canal.

The sixth inquest was that held by Dr. MacErlean on John Laurence Griffith, of Pigeon House Cottages, who was fatally wounded in a gun duel with the police on Sunday, a report of which is given elsewhere.

Starting-Price Bookmakers who are not already members of the above Association would be well advised to join at once. Your livelihood is being threatened by a policy of tax-free betting, already started and likely to extend throughout the City of Dublin, and eventually all over the country.

While it is unnecessary to remind you how difficult it is to carry on with racing restricted on account of the war and the burden of a 7½ per cent. tax, we feel it our duty to warn you that any attempt to bet tax-free will deal a mortal blow to the business.

It is a rule of this Association that all members shall deduct not less than 5 per cent. on all money back (void bets excepted), and every member has pledged his word to observe this rule. Any member who stops no tax is breaking his pledged word, breaking a rule of the Association, and will earn the contempt of his fellow-members; as he is destroying the welfare of all S.P. bookmakers and their employés.

We invite all bookmakers who are not already members to send in their names by return of post, and, in particular, the smaller men in the business, who will be the first to suffer from such unfair competition. The annual subscription to the Association is £1 for the bookmaker with one office and 10/- per annum for each additional office.

Hyperides for Gold Cup

By BIRDCATCHER.

A SMALL and rather poor-class field will contest the Gold Cup at Newmarket to-day. Hyperides has proved superior to his present rivals up to 1¾m., and should win if he can stay the extra six furlongs here. It will be recalled that his sire, Hyperion, failed to cope with Felicitation in the Ascot marathon; but there is no comparable opposition in to-day's event. Chief danger to Hyperides may come from Shahpoor, who is a genuine stayer, and has been thoroughly prepared for the race. Lovely Trim—son of Trimdon, dual Gold Cup winner—has stamina, but no turn of speed. The race may not require much winning, and I take Hyperides to get the trip and beat Shahpoor. Selections:—

Birdcatcher—10.45, Lord Bobs; 11.15, Silver Sal; 11.45, Glossary; if absent, Valiant Friar; 12.15, Hyperides (nap); 12.45, Fair Fame; 1.15, Sirdarshah or Tripos; 1.45, Chart Room. Double — Hyperides and Silver Sal.

Travelling Correspondent.—10.45, Band Leader; 11.15, Silurum; 11.45, Admiral's Luck; 12.15, High Table (nap); 12.45, Fair Fame; 1.15, Royal Mortlake; 1.45, Knight's Daughter. Double—High Table and Band Leader.

Doubles Surprise in Fitzwilliam Tennis

By P. D. MacWEENEY.

THERE was a major surprise in the Irish lawn tennis championships at Fitzwilliam yesterday, C. A. Kemp and E. H. Maynard, runners-up in the men's doubles for the last two years, losing in the second round to J. Fitzgibbon and I. Boden, in two sets. Even though Maynard has had little hard competitive play this season, such a result was totally unexpected; for, while Fitzgibbon, the young Waterford man has done extremely well for the Anglesea team in the inter-club competition, Boden, one of last year's juniors, never previously has done anything of note in doubles. It was a hard-fought match, the majority of the games going with service, but Kemp was never allowed to dominate the court, and the winners proved just the better-balanced combination.

The holders of the mixed doubles title, R. F. Egan and Mrs. E. J. Lister, were eliminated in their first match, their conquerors being that strong combination, T. G. McVeagh and Mrs. Egan. Covering the net at something like the speed of his Davis Cup days, McVeagh brought off some remarkable interceptions, and found Mrs. Lister very shaky in her ground strokes. The losers threatened a recovery when they led 4-2 in the second set, but they lost four games in a row.

ALL-COMERS' SINGLES—1st Round.

Clontarf's First Cricket Cup

Clontarf won the Leinster Senior Cup for the first time when they beat Pembroke in the final at Rathmines last evening by 25 runs. When play was resumed Pembroke, 152 for four, required 68 runs to win, but when T. C. Williams was quickly out to a bad stroke Pembroke's hopes faded. B. F. Bergin was the remaining pillar, and he added only 12 to his overnight 43. L. B. McMahon played a captain's part in the victory, for he took four of the last six wickets. Score:—

Yearlings Make Good Prices

The yearlings sent up by Mr. Edward Esmond and Lady Wentworth attracted most attention at the Newmarket sales yesterday. The nine mares and foals which belonged to the Duke of Portland realised only 1,345 guineas. The colt by Foxhunter out of the French Oaks winner, Mistress Ford, fetched the highest price of Mr. Esmond's lot, Frank Butters buying him for 2,900 guineas. The Middleham trainer, G. Armstrong, paid 2,200 guineas for a colt by the same sire out of Dulce II and 1,350 guineas for a colt by him out of Necklace II.

£1,000 Nursery at Park

BY OUR RACING CORRESPONDENT.

Races for two-year-olds figure prominently at our principal meetings, but for some reason which was never obvious to the writer we have no equivalent to the English T.Y.O. Free Handicap. We are promised something approaching the latter on September 4th, when the Phoenix Nursery Handicap, a £1,000 race, will be run at Phoenix Park. The conditions of the race are not yet available, but one can reasonably assume that, with such valuable prizemoney attached, it will attract the majority of our juveniles.

It will be decidedly interesting to see the handicapper's assessment of their individual merits, for the entry naturally will be much larger than for the average nursery handicap, to which the attached stake is of nothing like the same proportions. We shall have a further opportunity of discussing the prospects of the race when the actual conditions are published, but it seems certain that the venture will be an unqualified success, as is the case with all well-framed handicaps.

This year's crop of two-year-olds appear to be well up to standard, and the meeting of the best of these, in a race like the proposed Phoenix Park event, should be worth going a long way to see.

Interest in the two big Galway events, the Plate and Hurdle, will be stimulated after the publication of this week's "Irish Racing Calendar," which will contain the weights for both events. Meanwhile the Irish Grand National winner, Golden Jack, due to run at Leopardstown on Saturday, remains a strong favourite for the Plate, and is likely to retain that distinction irrespective of the weight allotted him.

THE CURRAGH.

The Curragh courses are in excellent order for the meeting to-morrow, writes our Curragh correspondent, and competition promises to be keener than usual. The easy Baldoyle Derby winner, Scots Guard, even with his 7lb. penalty, is in receipt of almost 2st. from the top weight, Edvina, in the Scurry Handicap; in the Baldoyle Derby Edvina carried 4lb. less than Scots Guard. It is likely that neither will run, and that Raffin will represent the Conyngham Lodge stable. Balbriggan, The Abbot of Hainault, and Barr Hill, who have been doing well, should make it an interesting race, and Ellen's Pet who, though she has gone up in the weights to a considerable extent, will not be without friends.

Owners and trainers are reminded that entries for the Tramore meeting on August 17, 18, and 19, close to-day.

Best Features in Home Funds and Banks

MARKETS again made a busy showing in the Dublin Stock Exchange yesterday, and continued support produced cheerful conditions in most groups.

Home Government Funds moved upwards, Rails held steady, and Banking issues were harder.

Among the Funds Agreement Loan advanced 7/6 to 111¾, while 4 per cent. Exchequer Bonds and 3½ per cent. Security Loan both added fractions. 4 per cent. Conversion drooped to 111¼, and 4½ per cent. New Land Bonds fell 15/- to 112½, but the 4 per cent. Bonds improved to 106½.

British War Loan held steady, and Dublin Port and Docks 5 per cent. Bridge stock made headway to 111½. Banks attracted a fair measure of attention, and the tone was harder, apart from Bank of Ireland stock, which fell a further point to 342. Munster and Leinsters rose several pence to 125/9, while Nationals and Provincial Old were a shade better.

Guinness Ord. held steady at 119/6. Busy conditions prevailed in Home Rails and continued demand helped to maintain a steady to firm tone. Great Southern issues showed no change. Great Northern Pref. spurted 25/- to 42, but the Gtd. gave way to 54½.

Sharp Drop in Brazilian Traction Ord.

LONDON Stock Markets were rather more subdued yesterday under the influence of a set-back in Gold and Diamond shares, due to uncertainty regarding the outcome of to-day's general election in South Africa.

Mines Relapse, But Rubbers Make Headway

There was a quieter atmosphere on the London Stock Markets yesterday. Mines drooped as a result of selling to secure profits before the election results, but support came in from the Cape and caused a rally. Blyvoors, which had fallen to 83/9, finished unchanged at 85/-. Among Diamonds, De Beers fell another ¼ to 22¼ and Consolidated 9d. to 43/3. Anglo-American Trust were 6d. down at 67/6.

Rubber shares opened dull, also as a result of profit-taking, but recovered later. Anglo-Malay, after losing 3d. to 7/3, came back to 7/9; Anglo-Dutch gained another 3d. at 15/6. Kuala Lumpur 1/3 to 16/3. Rubber Trust 6d. at 20/6, and United Serdang 3d. to 1/10½. Sua Betong finished unchanged after a shaky start. Malacca were up 6d. at 11/3 and Vallambrosa 7½d. at 4/10½.

Among Eastern Tin issues Renong fell back 9d. to 13/9, but Thai Syndicate improved another 4½d. to 13/1½ and Pahang 3d. to 9/6. Mawchi were another 6d. better at 21/6.

In Industrials there was fresh selling of Woolworth, the price falling 4½d. further to 55/-. Marks and Spencer lost 7½d. to 51/4½. Courtaulds fell 4½d. to 52/10½, but Celanese were steady at 21/10½. Morris Motors fell 7½d. to 44/-. Guinness improved 9d. to 119/9.

Internationals weakened. Brazil Traction declined 1⅛ to 31¼ following the chairman's statement, and "Canpacs" and Nickels were also down.

In the Oil market Burmah improved 7½d. to 66/10½ and Attock 3d. to 44/3.

A broadening investment demand caused further gains in Gilt-edged securities, War Loan 3½ p.c. being prominent.

The suggestion was made that the success of General Smuts was in doubt, and speculative holders were seeking to limit their liabilities. Later in the afternoon, however, there was some recovery on support from Johannesburg.

The demand for Rubber shares continued, with further appreciation in prices, owing largely to the difficulty of satisfying requirements.

A further sharp set-back in Brazil Traction Ord. was a feature yesterday. Compared with a recent highest of 32¼, the price closed at 31, after touching 30¾. For some months past the shares have been steadily rising from the level of about 22 at which they stood early in the year. When a final dividend for last year of 60 cents was paid in December, the prospect of an increase on this at the end of the current year was considered good. Now, however, reports have reached Britain of the speech delivered by the chairman, Sir Herbert Couzens, at the annual meeting in Toronto, in which he warned his hearers against "over-optimism." The directors, he said, shared the hope that the company would be able to increase its dividend, but could make no promise, owing to abnormal conditions caused by the war.

These, he declared, were often forgotten. They included inability to obtain plant, increase in taxation and wages and the need to conserve resources for the replacement of improvised and adapted materials. At the same time he emphasised the financial strength of the company, and stressed the present prosperity of Brazil and the unlimited possibilities of that country.

More Banking interim dividends were announced yesterday, and, as anticipated, were in each case the same as last year. They are—District 9 1-6 p.c., National and Provincial 7½ p.c., and Westminster 9 p.c.

The Consett Iron Co. announces a dividend of 7½ p.c. for the year to March 31 last (the same as for the four preceding years). In 1936 the company underwent a drastic capital reorganisation, and the capital is now £3,300,000, of which £2,800,000 is in 6/8 Ord. shares, quoted at 7/10½.

Golfers Do a Mile Per Hour

By J. P. ROONEY.

Golf at one time was supposed to be an old man's game, but many veterans of to-day, in the matter of speed, could give a good handicap and a beating to the majority of the young fellows who perambulated round the Castle yesterday on the last eighteen holes of the qualifying round for the John Lumsden Memorial Cup. A large number of partnerships took three hours and a quarter to do the round, or a little over one mile an hour—a rather tedious journey, and an upsetting experience for the more agile of the big field.

The draw for the match play, starting to-day at the Castle at 5 o'clock, resulted:—

J. Kelly v. Smyth; Howley v. Lambert; Kearns v. Mullan; H. Murphy v. Love; Murray v. D. Murphy; Costello v. Barkley; F. Kelly v. Horgan; Davis v. Purcell.

The qualifiers were:—

CLASS I.

141—J. A. Kelly (Howth, 4), 72, 69.
145—R. Murray (Castle, 4), 73, 72; F. X. Kelly (Portmarnock, 4), 70, 75; R. D. Lambert (Milltown, 4), 78, 67.
147—T. D. Purcell (Killiney, 3), 75, 72; L. Howley (Royal Dublin, 4), 73, 74; D. V. Horgan (Milltown, 4), 73, 74.
148—P. A. Love (Grange, 3), 74, 74.
R. J. Scannell (Woodbrook, scr.) had 73-75, but Love got eighth place.

CLASS II.

139—H. J. Murphy (U.C.D., 8), 71, 68.
141—D. J. Murphy (Newlands, 8), 73, 68; G. Davis (Castle, 7), 70, 71.
143—R. F. Smyth (College of Surgeons), 72, 71; J. F. Kearns (Royal Dublin, 6), 75, 68.
145—S. Mullan (Royal Dublin), 69, 76; A. E. Barkley (Foxrock, 6), 75, 68; M. Costello (Clontarf, 9), 72, 71.

Best nett last eighteen holes—D. Kenny (Rush), K. Hogan (Sutton) and T. V. Cummins (Castle) tied for best and second best nett. Kenny was first and Cummins second on second nine.

LAST NIGHT'S YACHTING.

A fleet of ten Vegas took part in the postponed second tie for the "Lynch" prize. Early on it looked as if Vega (Miss Armstrong) was a probable winner, but in working to windward Phyllis (W. R. McFerran) did best and eventually crossed the finishing line 34 secs. ahead of Vega. Millie was third and was followed home by Capella, Sorrento, Penelope, Jacqueline, Maureen, Alis and Xander.

Court Story of Fish and Chip Shop Shooting

A Dublin fish and chip shop fight, in which two shots were fired, wounding three people was described in the Dublin Circuit Criminal Court yesterday, when Detective Officer William Fitzgerald was charged with wounding Joseph Gains and Charlie Steadman.

Mr. R. F. McLoughlin, who, with Mr. S. Hooper, prosecuted, said that the accused man was off duty at the time the shooting took place. He was in a fish and chip saloon, in which the shots were fired, wounding, besides Gains and Steadman, Joseph Burke, Army private. Gains was celebrating his return from England, and Steadman arrived at the height of a row which developed. The shots were fired during the row, Gains being shot in the chest. Fitzgerald claimed that the revolver was drawn in self-defence.

Gains, in evidence, said that he went with some friends to Devaney's fish and chip shop in High street on the night in question. Sitting in a cubicle they noticed an argument in another cubicle in which Fitzgerald and another detective were involved. Blows were struck. Witness went across and pulled a man named Burke away from the grip of Fitzgerald, and immediately he (witness) felt a sting in his chest. He was dazed, and the next thing he knew was being in Steevens's Hospital, where he was for a fortnight. He was three weeks in a convalescent home.

To Mr. E. Fahy (instructed by Mr. L. Trant McCarthy), defending, Gains said that Burke and Steadman were friends of his, all coming from the same area. He had been in the British Army, and had been arrested for being absent. He had arrived from England on the morning of the shooting and had £8. He did not agree that Burke or himself was intoxicated when they went to Devaney's. He was not aware that Fitzgerald had been attacked in the shop, or that a bottle had been thrown at him. A plate was thrown.

DREW HIS GUN

Joseph Burke, Army private, said that he had an argument in the fish and chip shop with Fitzgerald, and that he saw Fitzgerald with a revolver in his hand. Gains came over and said, "Don't be ridiculous."

To Mr. Fahy, witness said that it had been alleged that £4 had been stolen from the shop that night.

Detective-Officer S. Murphy said that Burke struck Fitzgerald twice in the face and called on a crowd, who were apparently with him, "Come on, lads, we will bash these fellows up." About seven or eight people rushed into the cubicle where he and Fitzgerald were, and Fitzgerald was struck several times. Gains caught Fitzgerald's throat and Fitzgerald drew his gun. Gains tried to seize the gun and it went off. Burke tried to take the gun from Fitzgerald, and during the struggle another shot went off.

Charles Steadman said that he saw Fitzgerald pulling out his gun and firing. When he heard the second shot he (witness) ran out of the shop. He saw no attack made on Fitzgerald.

Patrick Redmond said that he saw Burke strike Fitzgerald and then attack Fitzgerald again with others. When Fitzgerald was being overpowered he drew his gun and fired a shot. Burke tried to take the gun and another shot went off.

To Mr. Fahy the witness agreed that Burke was intoxicated.

The case was adjourned until to-day.

Limerick Hotel Owner's Will

On a summons taken out by Innocent Ryan, bank official, Park Villas, Victoria road, Cork, to construe a clause of the will of his father, Robert F. Ryan, proprietor of the Glentworth Hotel, Limerick, who had been twice married, leaving ten children by the first and three by the second marriage, Mr. Justice Overend, in the High Court, Dublin, yesterday, held that the late Mr. Ryan had placed his wife in full control of the hotel and its management, with power to apply the proceeds for the benefit of herself or the children, or any one or more of them, of both families, in any way she thought fit, until the son Michael attained the age of 25 years.

Counsel for Mr. Ryan said that the estate was worth over £17,000, and that this really was a dispute between the children of the first family and the children of the second, whether the children of the first should get anything, and, if so, how much, or whether the children of the second should get everything.

In his will the late Mr. Ryan left the hotel to his wife, to be managed by her as she should think fit, she on no account to be interfered with by any member of his first family, and he stated: "The hotel shall be managed as aforesaid by my said wife for her own benefit and the benefit of my children in her absolute discretion by her until such time as my son Michael shall attain the age of 25 years . . ."

The Court was asked to determine whether the widow had been constituted a trustee for herself and all her late husband's children of the profits of the Glentworth Hotel business, under her management, until Michael had attained 25 years, and should the answer be "Yes," whether she and all the children would be entitled to equal shares of the profits during the period mentioned or whether the profits should be divisible amongst her and all the children as she in her discretion might determine.

Mr. J. A. Costello, K.C., and Mr. Marnan (instructed by Messrs. Arthur Cox and Co.) appeared for Mr. Ryan; Mr. Cecil Lavery, K.C., and Mr. W. O'B. Fitzgerald (instructed by Messrs. P. E. O'Donnell and Son) for Mr. Jack Fitzgerald, commercial traveller, Westcliffe Hotel, Kilkee, executor of the will, and Mrs. Kitty Ryan, the widow.

Donegal Injunction

Mr. Justice Overend, in the High Court, Dublin, yesterday, granted an application of Mr. McGonigal, K.C., with whom was Mr. Rex Mackey (instructed by Mr. John Wray), on behalf of Mrs. Annie McGibbon, Haw House, Bay Post Office, Lifford, Co. Donegal, for an interim injunction to restrain Mrs. Nettie Grant Morris, of the same address, from removing furniture and effects in Haw House, pending the hearing of the action of Mrs. McGibbon, who sued as administratrix of Isabella Morris, late of Haw House, for a declaration that the furniture and effects are her property.

Dublin Housebreaking Charges

According to a statement alleged to have been made by him, twenty-year-old John Fitzpatrick, Mountjoy Square, on returning from England in May last, proceeded to break into private residences in the Glasnevin, Fairview and Clontarf areas and steal property, including ladies' frocks. Yesterday he was charged in the Dublin District Court in respect of ten such offences, and was remanded till Monday next.

Christopher O'Connor (21), also of Mountjoy Square, was also remanded until Monday, charged with being concerned with Fitzpatrick in the breaking into a house in Windsor avenue.

Mrs. Kathleen Byrne, Avondale House, and Mrs. Kathleen Mooney, Lower Sean McDermott street, were sent for trial on charges of receiving some of the stolen property.

Stole from his Employers

Patrick Joseph Smyth, Oakfield place, Lombard street West, Dublin, was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment by Judge Shannon in the Circuit Criminal Court yesterday, when he pleaded guilty to stealing a quantity of fabric and piece goods from his employers, Messrs. J. McMorrough and Sons, Middle Abbey street, Dublin.

Inspector M. Farrell said that £1,200 worth of goods was missing, of which only two or three small pieces had been recovered.

Action Against Chemist

Declaring that a little bit of common-sense and neighbourly feeling on either side could have avoided the trouble, Judge Davitt, in the Dublin Circuit Civil Court, yesterday, gave a decree for £1 to each of two plaintiffs who brought an action for £200 damages against a neighbour for negligence in the care and maintenance of gas pipes on his premises.

The plaintiffs, Matthew Burke and his wife, Nora, of 6 Prospect road, Glasnevin, claimed that through the negligence of Francis Brennan, chemist, occupying next door premises, gas had been allowed to escape, imperilling their lives and on one occasion causing them headaches and nausea.

Brennan said that he had not been on the most neighbourly terms with plaintiffs, and believed that the case had been brought to cause him annoyance.

Starting-Price Bookmakers who are not already members of the above Association would be well advised to join at once. Your livelihood is being threatened by a policy of tax-free betting, already started and likely to extend throughout the City of Dublin, and eventually all over the country.

While it is unnecessary to remind you how difficult it is to carry on with racing restricted on account of the war and the burden of a 7½ per cent. tax, we feel it our duty to warn you that any attempt to bet tax-free will deal a mortal blow to the business.

It is a rule of this Association that all members shall deduct not less than 5 per cent. on all money back (void bets excepted), and every member has pledged his word to observe this rule. Any member who stops no tax is breaking his pledged word, breaking a rule of the Association, and will earn the contempt of his fellow-members, as he is destroying the welfare of all S.P. bookmakers and their employés.

We invite all bookmakers who are not already members to send in their names by return of post, and, in particular, the smaller men in the business, who will be the first to suffer from such unfair competition. The annual subscription to the Association is £1 for the bookmaker with one office and 10/- per annum for each additional office.

Hyperides for Gold Cup

By BIRDCATCHER.

A SMALL and rather poor-class field will contest the Gold Cup at Newmarket to-day. Hyperides has proved superior to his present rivals up to 1½m., and should win if he can stay the extra six furlongs here. It will be recalled that his sire, Hyperion, failed to cope with Felicitation in the Ascot marathon; but there is no comparable opposition in to-day's event. Chief danger to Hyperides may come from Shahpoor, who is a genuine stayer, and has been thoroughly prepared for the race. Lovely Trim—son of Trimdon, dual Gold Cup winner—has stamina, but no turn of speed. The race may not require much winning, and I take Hyperides to get the trip and beat Shahpoor. Selections:—

Birdcatcher—10.45, Lord Bobs; 11.15, Silver Sal; 11.45, Glossary; if absent, Valiant Friar; 12.15, Hyperides (nap); 12.45, Fair Fame; 1.15, Sirdarshah or Tripos; 1.45, Chart Room. Double — Hyperides and Silver Sal.

Yearlings Make Good Prices

The yearlings sent up by Mr. Edward Esmond and Lady Wentworth attracted most attention at the Newmarket sales yesterday. The nine mares and foals which belonged to the Duke of Portland realised only 1,345 guineas. The colt by Foxhunter out of the French Oaks winner, Mistress Ford, fetched the highest price of Mr. Esmond's lot, Frank Butters buying him for 2,900 guineas. The Middleham trainer, G. Armstrong, paid 2,200 guineas for a colt by the same sire out of Dulce II and 1,350 guineas for a colt by him out of Necklace II.

£1,000 Nursery at Park

BY OUR RACING CORRESPONDENT.

Races for two-year-olds figure prominently at our principal meetings, but for some reason which was never obvious to the writer we have no equivalent to the English T.Y.O. Free Handicap. We are promised something approaching the latter on September 4th, when the Phœnix Nursery Handicap, a £1,000 race, will be run at Phœnix Park. The conditions of the race are not yet available, but one can reasonably assume that, with such valuable prizemoney attached, it will attract the majority of our juveniles.

It will be decidedly interesting to see the handicapper's assessment of their individual merits, for the entry naturally will be much larger than for the average nursery handicap, to which the attached stake is of nothing like the same proportions. We shall have a further opportunity of discussing the prospects of the race when the actual conditions are published, but it seems certain that the venture will be an unqualified success, as is the case with all well-framed handicaps.

This year's crop of two-year-olds appear to be well up to standard, and the meeting of the best of these, in a race like the proposed Phœnix Park event, should be worth going a long way to see.

Interest in the two big Galway events, the Plate and Hurdle, will be stimulated after the publication of this week's "Irish Racing Calendar," which will contain the weights for both events. Meanwhile the Irish Grand National winner, Golden Jack, due to run at Leopardstown on Saturday, remains a strong favourite for the Plate, and is likely to retain that distinction irrespective of the weight allotted him.

THE CURRAGH.

The Curragh courses are in excellent order for the meeting to-morrow, writes our Curragh correspondent, and competition promises to be keener than usual. The easy Baldoyle Derby winner, Scots Guard, even with his 7lb. penalty, is in receipt of almost 2st. from the top weight, Edvina, in the Scurry Handicap; in the Baldoyle Derby Edvina carried [illegible] less than Scots Guard. It is likely that neither will run, and that [illegible] will represent the Conyngham Lodge stable. The Abbot [illegible], Balbriggan, and Barr Hill, who have [illegible] should make it an interesting race, and Ellen's Pet, who, though she has gone up in the weights to a [illegible] extent, will not be without supporters.

Owners and trainers are reminded that entries for the Tramore meeting on August 17, 18, and 19, close to-day.

Doubles Surprise in Fitzwilliam Tennis

By P. D. MacWEENEY.

THERE was a major surprise in the Irish lawn tennis championships at Fitzwilliam yesterday, C. A. Kemp and E. H. Maynard, runners-up in the men's doubles for the last two years, losing in the second round to J. Fitzgibbon and I. Boden, in two sets. Even though Maynard has had little hard competitive play this season, such a result was totally unexpected; for, while Fitzgibbon, the young Waterford man has done extremely well for the Anglesea team in the inter-club competition, Boden, one of last year's juniors, never previously has done anything of note in doubles. It was a hard-fought match, the majority of the games going with service, but Kemp was never allowed to dominate the court, and the winners proved just the better-balanced combination.

The holders of the mixed doubles title, R. F. Egan and Mrs. E. J. Lister, were eliminated in their first match, their conquerors being that strong combination, T. G. McVeagh and Mrs. Egan. Covering the net at something like the speed of his Davis Cup days, McVeagh brought off some remarkable interceptions, and found Mrs. Lister very shaky in her ground strokes. The losers threatened a recovery when they led 4-2 in the second set, but they lost four games in a row.

Clontarf's First Cricket Cup

Clontarf won the Leinster Senior Cup for the first time when they beat Pembroke in the final at Rathmines last evening by 25 runs When play was resumed Pembroke, 152 for four, required 68 runs to win, but when T. C. Williams was quickly out to a bad stroke Pembroke's hopes failed. B. F Bergin was the remaining pillar, and he added only 12 to his overnight 43. L. B. McMahon played a captain's part in the victory, for he took four of the last six wickets Score:—

Best Features in Home Funds and Banks

MARKETS again made a busy showing in the Dublin Stock Exchange yesterday, and continued support produced cheerful conditions in most groups.

Home Government Funds moved upwards, Rails held steady, and Banking issues were harder.

Among the Funds Agreement Loan advanced 7/6 to 111⅛, while 4 per cent. Exchequer Bonds and 3¼ per cent. Security Loan both added fractions. 4 per cent. Conversion drooped to 111⅛, and 4½ per cent. New Land Bonds fell 15/- to 112½, but the 4 per cent. Bonds improved to 106⅛.

British War Loan held steady, and Dublin Port and Docks 5 per cent. Bridge stock made headway to 111½. Banks attracted a fair measure of attention, and the tone was harder, apart from Bank of Ireland stock, which fell a further point to 342. Munster and Leinsters rose several pence to 125/9, while Nationals and Provincial Old were a shade better.

Guinness Ord. held steady at 119/6. Busy conditions prevailed in Home Rails and continued demand helped to maintain a steady to firm tone. Great Southern issues showed no change. Great Northern Pref. spurted 25/- to 42, but the Gtd. gave way to 54½.

Sharp Drop in Brazilian Traction Ord.

LONDON Stock Markets were rather more subdued yesterday under the influence of a set-back in Gold and Diamond shares, due to uncertainty regarding the outcome of to-day's general election in South Africa.

Mines Relapse, But Rubbers Make Headway

There was a quieter atmosphere on the London Stock Markets yesterday. Mines drooped as a result of selling to secure profits before the election results, but support came in from the Cape and caused a rally. Blyvoors, which had fallen to 83/9, finished unchanged at 85/-. Among Diamonds, De Beers fell another ¼ to 22⅜ and Consolidated 9d. to 43/3. Anglo-American Trust were 6d. down at 67/6.

Rubber shares opened dull, also as a result of profit-taking, but recovered later. Anglo-Malay, after losing 3d. to 7/3, came back to 7/9; Anglo-Dutch gained another 3d. at 15/6, Kuala Lumpur 1/3 to 16/3, Rubber Trust 6d. at 20/6, and United Serdang 3d. to 1/10½. Sua Betong finished unchanged after a shaky start. Malacca were up 6d. at 11/3 and Vallambrosa 7½d. at 4/10½.

Among Eastern Tin issues Renong fell back 9d. to 13/9, but Thai Syndicate improved another 4½d. to 13/1½ and Pahang 3d. to 9/6. Mawchi were another 6d. better at 21/6.

In Industrials there was fresh selling of Woolworth, the price falling 4½d. further to 55/- Marks and Spencer lost 7½d. to 51/4½. Courtaulds fell 4½d. to 52/10½, but Celanese were steady at 21/10½. Morris Motors fell 7½d. to 44/-. Guinness improved 9d. to 119/9.

Internationals weakened. Brazil Traction declined 11/16 to 31¼ following the chairman's statement, and "Canpacs" and Nickels were also down.

In the Oil market Burmah improved 7½d. to 66/10½ and Attock 3d. to 44/3.

A broadening investment demand caused further gains in Gilt-edged securities, War Loan 3½ p.c. being prominent.

The suggestion was made that the success of General Smuts was in doubt, and speculative holders were seeking to limit their liabilities. Later in the afternoon, however, there was some recovery on support from Johannesburg.

The demand for Rubber shares continued, with further appreciation in prices, owing largely to the difficulty of satisfying requirements.

A further sharp set-back in Brazil Traction Ord. was a feature yesterday. Compared with a recent highest of 32¾, the price closed at 31, after touching 30¾. For some months past the shares have been steadily rising from the level of about 22 at which they stood early in the year. When a final dividend for last year of 60 cents was paid in December, the prospect of an increase on this at the end of the current year was considered good. Now, however, reports have reached Britain of the speech delivered by the chairman, Sir Herbert Couzens, at the annual meeting in Toronto, in which he warned his hearers against "over-optimism." The directors, he said, shared the hope that the company would be able to increase its dividend, but could make no promise, owing to abnormal conditions caused by the war.

These, he declared, were often forgotten. They included inability to obtain plant, increase in taxation and wages and the need to conserve resources for the replacement of improvised and adapted materials. At the same time he emphasised the financial strength of the company, and stressed the present prosperity of Brazil and the unlimited possibilities of that country.

More Banking interim dividends were announced yesterday, and, as anticipated, were in each case the same as last year. They are—District 9 1-6 p.c., National and Provincial 7½ p.c., and Westminster 9 p.c.

The Consett Iron Co. announces a dividend of 7½ p.c. for the year to March 31 last (the same as for the four preceding years). In 1936 the company underwent a drastic capital reorganisation, and the capital is now £3,300,000, of which £2,800,000 is in 6/8 Ord. shares, quoted at 7/10½.

Golfers Do a Mile Per Hour

By J. P. ROONEY.

Golf at one time was supposed to be an old man's game, but many veterans of to-day, in the matter of speed, could give a good handicap and a beating to the majority of the young fellows who perambulated round the Castle yesterday on the last eighteen holes of the qualifying round for the John Lumsden Memorial Cup. A large number of partnerships took three hours and a quarter to do the round, or a little over one mile an hour—a rather tedious journey, and an upsetting experience for the more agile of the big field.

The draw for the match play, starting to-day at the Castle at 5 o'clock, resulted:—

J. Kelly v. Smyth; Howley v. Lambert; Kearns v. Mullan; H. Murphy v. Love; Murray v. D. Murphy; Costelloe v. Barkley; F. Kelly v. Horgan; Davis v. Purcell.

The qualifiers were:—

CLASS I.

141—J. A. Kelly (Howth, 4), 72, 69.
145—R. Murray (Castle, 4), 73, 72; F. X. Kelly (Portmarnock, 4), 70, 75; R. D. Lambert (Milltown, 4), 78, 67.
147—T. D. Purcell (Killiney, 2), 75, 72; L. Howley (Royal Dublin, 4), 73, 74; D. V. Horgan (Milltown, 4), 73, 74.
148—P. A. Love (Grange, 3), 74, 74.

B. J. Scannell (Woodbrook, scr.) had 73-75, but Love got eighth place.

CLASS II.

139—H. J. Murphy (U.C.D., 8), 71, 68.
141—D. J. Murphy (Newlands, 8), 73, 68; G. Davis (Castle, 7), 70, 71.
142—B. F. Smyth (College of Surgeons), 71 71; J. F. Kearns (Royal Dublin, 8), 73, 69.
143—S. Mullan (Royal Dublin), 69, 74; A. B. Barkley (Foxrock, 8), 75, 68; M. Costelloe (Clontarf, 9), 72, 71.

Best nett last eighteen holes—D. Kenny (Birr), K. Hogan (Sutton) and T. V. Commins (Castle) tied for best and second-best nett. Kenny was first and Commins second on second nine.

LAST NIGHT'S YACHTING.

A fleet of ten Wags took part in the postponed second tie for the "Lynch" prize. Early on it looked as if Vega (Miss Armstrong) was a probable winner, but in working to windward Phyllis (W. R. McFerran) did best and eventually crossed the finishing line 34 secs. ahead of Vega. Mollie was third and was followed home by Coquette, Saryalis, Penelope, Jacqueline, Maureen, Alfa and Nandor.

Mother! Give Constipated Child 'California Syrup of Figs'

Children love the pleasant taste of 'California Syrup of Figs' brand laxative, and gladly take it even when bilious, feverish, sick or constipated. No other laxative regulates the tender little bowels so nicely — it sweetens the stomach and stimulates the liver and bowels without cramping or over-acting. Millions of mothers depend upon this gentle, harmless laxative.

Tell your chemist you want 'California Syrup of Figs,' which has full directions for babies, children of all ages. Prices 1/3 and 2/6. Mother, you must say 'CALIFORNIA.'

Court Story of Fish and Chip Shop Shooting

A Dublin fish and chip shop fight, in which two shots were fired, wounding three people was described in the Dublin Circuit Criminal Court yesterday, when Detective Officer William Fitzgerald was charged with wounding Joseph Gains and Charlie Steadman.

Mr. R. F. McLoughlin, who, with Mr. S. Hooper, prosecuted, said that the accused man was off duty at the time the shooting took place. He was in a fish and chip saloon, in which the shots were fired, wounding, besides Gains and Steadman, Joseph Burke, Army private. Gains was celebrating his return from England, and Steadman arrived at the height of a row which developed. The shots were fired during the row, Gains being shot in the chest. Fitzgerald claimed that the revolver was drawn in self-defence.

Gains, in evidence, said that he went with some friends to Devaney's fish and chip shop in High street on the night in question. Sitting in a cubicle they noticed an argument in another cubicle in which Fitzgerald and another detective were involved Blows were struck. Witness went across and pulled a man named Burke away from the grip of Fitzgerald, and immediately he (witness) felt a sting in his chest. He was dazed, and the next thing he knew was being in Steevens's Hospital, where he was for a fortnight. He was three weeks in a convalescent home.

To Mr. E. Fahy (instructed by Mr. L. Trant McCarthy), defending, Gains said that Burke and Steadman were friends of his, all coming from the same area He had been in the British Army, and had been arrested for being absent. He had arrived from England on the morning of the shooting and had £8 He did not agree that Burke or himself was intoxicated when they went to Devaney's. He was not aware that Fitzgerald had been attacked in the shop, or that a bottle had been thrown at him. A plate was thrown.

DREW HIS GUN

Joseph Burke Army private, said that he had an argument in the fish and chip shop with Fitzgerald, and that he saw Fitzgerald with a revolver in his hand. Gains came over and said, "Don't be ridiculous."

To Mr. Fahy, witness said that it had been alleged that £4 had been stolen from the shop that night.

Detective-Officer S. Murphy said that Burke struck Fitzgerald twice in the face and called on a crowd, who were apparently with him, "Come on, lads, we will bash these fellows up." About seven or eight people rushed into the cubicle where he and Fitzgerald were, and Fitzgerald was struck several times. Gains caught Fitzgerald's throat and Fitzgerald drew his gun. Gains tried to seize the gun and it went off. Burke tried to take the gun from Fitzgerald, and during the struggle another shot went off.

Charles Steadman said that he saw Fitzgerald pulling out his gun and firing. When he heard the second shot he (witness) ran out of the shop. He saw no attack made on Fitzgerald.

Patrick Redmond said that he saw Burke strike Fitzgerald and then attack Fitzgerald again with others. When Fitzgerald was being overpowered he drew his gun and fired a shot. Burke tried to take the gun and another shot went off.

To Mr. Fahy the witness agreed that Burke was intoxicated.

The case was adjourned until to-day.

Limerick Hotel Owner's Will

On a summons taken out by Innocent Ryan, bank official, Park Villas, Victoria road, Cork, to construe a clause of the will of his father, Robert F. Ryan, proprietor of the Glentworth Hotel, Limerick, who had been twice married, leaving ten children by the first and three by the second marriage, Mr. Justice Overend, in the High Court, Dublin, yesterday, held that the late Mr. Ryan had placed his wife in full control of the hotel and its management, with power to apply the proceeds for the benefit of herself or the children, or any one or more of them, of both families, in any way she thought fit, until the son Michael attained the age of 25 years.

Counsel for Mr. Ryan said that the estate was worth over £17,000, and that this really was a dispute between the children of the first family and the children of the second, whether the children of the first should get anything, and, if so, how much, or whether the children of the second should get everything.

In his will the late Mr. Ryan left the hotel to his wife, to be managed by her as she should think fit, she on no account to be interfered with by any member of his first family, and he stated: "The hotel shall be managed as aforesaid by my said wife for her own benefit and the benefit of my children in her absolute discretion by her until such time as my son Michael shall attain the age of 25 years . . ."

The Court was asked to determine whether the widow had been constituted a trustee for herself and all her late husband's children of the profits of the Glentworth Hotel business, under her management, until Michael had attained 25 years, and, should the answer be "Yes," whether she and all the children would be entitled to equal shares of the profits during the period mentioned or whether the profits should be divisible amongst her and all the children as she in her discretion might determine.

Mr. J. A. Costello, K.C., and Mr. Marnan (instructed by Messrs. Arthur Cox and Co.) appeared for Mr. Ryan; and Mr. Cecil Lavery, K.C., and Mr. W. O'B. Fitzgerald (instructed by Messrs. P. E. O'Donnell and Son) for Mr. Jack Fitzgerald, commercial traveller, Westcliffe Hotel, Kilkee, executor of the will, and Mrs. Kitty Ryan, the widow.

Donegal Injunction

Mr. Justice Overend, in the High Court, Dublin, yesterday, granted an application of Mr. McGonigal, K.C., with whom was Mr. Rex Mackay (instructed by Mr. John Wray), on behalf of Mrs. Annie McGibbon, Haw House, Ray Post Office, Lifford, Co. Donegal, for an interim injunction to restrain Mrs. Nettie Grant Morrin, of the same address, from removing furniture and effects in Haw House, pending the hearing of the action of Mrs. McGibbon, who sued as administratrix of Isabella Morrin, late of Haw House, for a declaration that the furniture and effects are her property.

Dublin Housebreaking Charges

According to a statement alleged to have been made by him, twenty-year-old John Fitzpatrick, Mountjoy Square, on returning from England in May last, proceeded to break into private residences in the Glasnevin, Fairview and Clontarf areas and steal property, including ladies' frocks. Yesterday he was charged in the Dublin District Court in respect of ten such offences, and was remanded till Monday next

Christopher O'Connor (21), also of Mountjoy Square, was also remanded until Monday, charged with being concerned with Fitzpatrick in the breaking into a house in Windsor avenue.

Mrs. Kathleen Byrne, Avondale House, and Mrs. Kathleen Mooney, Lower Sean McDermott street, were sent for trial on charges of receiving some of the stolen property.

Your best protection against Burglary, Housebreaking and Larceny is an Insurance Policy with the Norwich Union.—J. G. Aston, Mgr., 63 Dawson street, Dublin.

Stole from his Employers

Patrick Joseph Smyth, Oakfield place, Lombard street West, Dublin, was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment by Judge Shannon in the Circuit Criminal Court yesterday, when he pleaded guilty to stealing a quantity of fabric and piece goods from his employers, Messrs. J. McMorrough and Sons, Middle Abbey street, Dublin.

Inspector M. Farrell said that £1,200 worth of goods was missing, of which only two or three small pieces had been recovered.

Action Against Chemist

Declaring that a little bit of common-sense and neighbourly feeling on either side could have avoided the trouble, Judge Davitt, in the Dublin Circuit Civil Court, yesterday, gave a decree for £1 to each of two plaintiffs who brought an action for £100 damages against a neighbour for negligence in the care and maintenance of gas pipes on his premises.

The plaintiffs, Matthew Burke and his wife, Nora, of 6 Prospect road, Glasnevin, claimed that through the negligence of Francis Brennan, chemist, occupying next door premises, gas had been allowed to escape, imperilling their lives and on one occasion causing them headaches and nausea.

Brennan said that he had not been on the most neighbourly terms with plaintiffs, and believed that the case had been brought to cause him annoyance.

STRATEGIC RESERVE

By Our Military Correspondent.

ABOUT a month ago Mr. Churchill stated that the number of German divisions in Russia was believed to be 190. On June 28 a Lisbon report said that some 50 divisions had been withdrawn from the Russian front. These, of course, are not to be deducted from the 190, as they must have already been turned aside from Russia before the British Prime Minister made his statement. In all likelihood they were the masse de manœuvre wherewith the Axis High Command had intended to operate offensively in Russia had their general strategic situation been more favourable than it actually is. They are now, probably, being held in readiness to parry and counter an Allied thrust aimed at some point in the south or west of the continent of Europe.

This surmise fits in with the details as to allocation of the 50 divisions, according to the Lisbon report. Some 10 divisions were attributed to the General Reserve under the Supreme Command; 15 were assigned to the Rundstedt Army Group in the west, and 12 to the List Group in the Balkans. Four divisions were given to Marshal Rommel "for the southwest," which presumably means the Mediterranean coast of France. The remainder were intended for Northern Italy—where they could, in effect, serve in some sort as an addition to the General Reserve.

ITALIAN MOVES

The Lisbon statement also gave some details of Italian troop distributions in peninsular Italy and the islands as follows: 3 divisions in Calabria (i.e., the toe of the boot), 4 in Sicily, 2 in Sardinia, 2 in Corsica. Nothing was said about German troops, except for a regiment in Corsica. This is not in line with former statements to the effect that German troops were in Sicily and Sardinia both—though no numbers were mentioned. For the rest, it seems to be quite definite that Italian divisions are in process of being brought back from the more remote Balkan districts, and replaced by Bulgarian. This change-over is quite possibly taking place according as the Bulgarian units complete the modernisation of their equipment.

It seems likely that, at the present time, there is in process in the German Army some sort of reorganisation aiming at the strengthening of their divisions in a defensive sense—in view of the more effective garrisoning of die Festung Europa. Rumours of "new weapons" may, doubtless, be in great part discounted, but there may be improved marks of existing weapons and other measures calculated to increase the fire-power of a division, for the same—or an even smaller—number of effectives. We know, for instance, that there is a plentiful supply of the new six-barrelled mortar, and that a rifle-grenade apparatus exists for anti-tank guns. Photographs of captured materials of these two types have recently been published. There has also been a report that the number of infantry machine-guns was as much as being doubled. In short, it would be only reasonable to suppose the Germans will give the same painstaking attention to the defensive equipment as to offensive.

RUSSIAN FRONT

This theory of re-equipment would serve to explain in part a recent Pravda article, according to which practically all German divisions elsewhere than in Russia possessed only "limited combat means." In passing, it may be stated that this did not apply to Arnim's troops in Africa, about which definite information is available. But the rest of the Pravda article does not square with other sources of information. For example, the German effectives on the Russian front are placed at 211 divisions, as against Mr. Churchill's figure of 21 divisions fewer; and it was asserted that not even one German division was in Italy. Possibly the Russian journal confounds the additional 21 German divisions with the 28 attributed by Mr. Churchill to the minor Axis partners. At all events, the discrepancy is an example of the difficulty of cross-checking various sources of information about belligerent forces.

Rather more definite would seem to be the statement on the Berlin Radio of July 1st, to the effect "that in France a belt of 350,000 troops have been thrown around Lyons." From the point of view of a strategic reserve Lyons would, of course, at the present time be the most vital point in all France—altogether more important than Paris. Lyons, it should be remembered, was always the Roman capital of Gaul—and for precisely the same reason. It was the most suitable point from which to exercise control, north, west and south. It was also well placed for initiating troop movements towards the north-east into Germany. The addition of railways and airways to roads has very greatly emphasised its importance. From the defensive point of view, Lyons is rather less vulnerable to air-attack than other centres, whether from Britain or from Africa. It is not, indeed, immune—far from it—but the difficulties are appreciable, especially during the short nights of midsummer. In view of the strength indicated—say, twenty divisions—it seems probable that a considerable proportion of the central reserves of at least the Rundstedt Group are located here. All the indications are that Sofia fulfils a like function with reference to the List Army Group in the Balkans, benefiting as it does from similar advantages of location and communications.

The Kursk Salient

It still is uncertain whether or not the German offensive against the Kursk "bulge" on the Russian front is a major operation, calculated to force a military decision against the Soviets, or, as Swedish observers suggest, merely a local attack which has as its object the straightening of the German line between Orel and the Donetz. Whatever may be the purpose of the offensive, there can be small doubt that it represents the greatest individual attack that yet has been experienced on the Russian front. The Germans, using what is described as "classic" technique, have made a double thrust against the salient at Kursk, basing their attack on the fifty mile diameter of a semi-circle, with the City of Kursk as its centre. Fighting during the last two days has been unusually heavy. According to Russian reports, the Germans have been throwing vast numbers of troops into the fray, and have suffered grievous losses. In a single day, the Soviet bulletins allege, the Germans have lost more than 10,000 men, excluding those wounded who were removed to the rear for treatment. Their losses in tanks are stated to have been more than 1,000 during the forty-eight hours in which fighting has been in progress, and the Russians also claim to have destroyed 314 German aircraft. It seems that the Germans have launched an offensive which, in sheer intensity, compares with that which was launched against the British Fifth Army near St. Quentin, in March, 1918. The infantry attack was preceded by what is described as a "terrific non-stop mortar barrage," accompanied by an attack by hundreds of dive-bombers, operating in waves of twenty and thirty at a time. The Russians admit that at certain points the German tanks have managed to penetrate their defences, but they assert that their infantry has been able to cut off the advancing German troops, with the result that, on balance, the advantage remains with the Soviets. German reports speak of a Russian offensive. They declare that "fighting continues with the utmost ferocity"; otherwise they give scant information. From the meagre information at our disposal, it seems to be clear that there has been no major "breakthrough" by either side. The fighting, so far, has been confined to a front of not more than 170 miles, which, in comparison with the total line, stretching from the Arctic Ocean to the Black Sea, is almost negligible, and, although the Germans are believed to have thrown in several divisions, it is far too soon to talk of a general offensive. If the Germans succeed in their immediate objective, they will shorten their front in Russia by about seventy miles. Possibly their High Command takes the view that every mile that is gained in Russia will serve to strengthen the Axis defences in Festung Europa; but, if it is true that they have lost more than 1,000 tanks in two days, their success will have been bought dearly. The whole situation is obscure. The mere fact that the German reports are couched in terms of a Russian offensive, in flat contradiction of the Moscow bulletins, suggests that the operations are in the nature of a manœuvre for position, rather than of an offensive on a major scale. According to neutral reports, there is little, if anything, to choose between the vigour of the attack and the intensity of the defence. Both sides seem to have almost unlimited numbers of men at their immediate disposal. They also seem to have formidable supplies of war material of every kind. It is impossible at the present stage of the campaign to say whether or not the Germans intend to make a third attempt to capture Moscow, having profited by their experiences of the last two years. All that can be said with any degree of certainty is that the fighting in the neighbourhood of Kursk is heavier than anything that has been known since the outbreak of the Russo-German war.

The Little Extra

The Roscommon Vocational Education Committee has achieved the distinction of being the only committee in Ireland which has refused to pay to vocational teachers the emergency bonus recently awarded to all civil servants. No doubt, many members of the committee are vastly pleased that they should be in such a position, and regard themselves as having struck a mighty blow for the rights of the ratepayers; indeed, almost the only protesting voice seems to have been that of Mr. Kilgariffe, who, as a national school teacher, might be suspected of having sectional interests at heart. The general objection was expressed by Mr. Peter Farrell, of the Farmers' Party, when he said: "I think we are the most overstaffed nation in the world so far as civil servants are concerned." There is implicit in his remark that resentment of the farmer towards the civil servant which makes the matter of agricultural organisation so difficult—a sentiment which the Farmers' Party, if it is to be a political force of any magnitude, must discard. The farmers are not backward in crying for increased social services; it is obvious that this entails an increase in the number of public servants. To demand that social services should be cramped in order that fewer people may be employed by the State—and this at a time of mass unemployment—is to seek to stop the wheels of progress. Mr. Richard Nally, another Farmers' representative, said that "the Committee seemed to spend half their time considering money applications from one teacher or another," and added that it was "making our vocational education terribly unpopular." No doubt, he meant unpopular with the ratepayers, and especially with the farmers; but he omitted to notice the rather more important fact that the committee, by its action, has helped to make vocational education unpopular with the teachers. The teachers of Ireland, as a whole, are an underpaid and underprivileged body. They are entrusted with what should be the most glorious, as it is the most important, task in the country—the care of youth. We place the future in their hands; for they make the men and women who will make the Ireland of to-morrow. In return, we pay them—in many cases—rather less than we pay a domestic servant, in whose hands is placed nothing more important than the dinner-service. Mr. Nally revealed himself at another stage of the same meeting, when a question arose of expenses for teachers who had attended a course in rural building, in order to be able to erect models for the purpose of instruction. His comment was that "instructors should be well qualified to make these little extras." In other words, Mr. Nally wants to get extra service, and pay less money; to get willing co-operation, and reward it with stinginess; to get a "well qualified" instructor, and treat him as if he were a parasite. Irish teachers, in every branch, are used to that attitude. Too many people think that a teacher should be prepared to labour simply for the love of his work. The result is easily imagined. The best men are not attracted to the teaching profession, because their ability can gain more material recognition elsewhere; those who do enter the profession soon lose their enthusiasm, because their work is so obviously not appreciated; and the natural consequence is a shoddy educational system. Some day, perhaps, the teachers will get tired of being selfless for the sake of Ireland's Mr. Nallys, and will all go out on strike. It is to be hoped that the Vocational Education Committee of Roscommon will feel well qualified to do the little extra work entailed.

MORE BLOOD DONORS WANTED

Last year over 1,000 donors gave blood transfusions to the Blood Transfusion Service, and, so far this year, 745 calls were made upon it. More blood donors are urgently required if the demands made upon the service by the hospitals are to be satisfied, and it is probable that these demands will increase in the future.

In an appeal for an additional 500 members, Sir John Lumsden (Chairman) and Dr. G. Dockeray (hon. secretary) of the Service, suggests that another 500 volunteers between 17 and 65 years easily could be obtained if a proportion of the members of athletic clubs sent in their names and helped the existing donors in the saving of many lives each year. The giving of a pint of blood would not affect their health or athletic performance, and the time required to go to a hospital and give a transfusion should not be more than an hour.

Another suggested method of helping the service is that business directors should send in their names and draw the attention of their workers to the work being done by the organisation.

GAS DECONTAMINATION

The Department of Defence (A.R.P. Branch) announces that a course of instruction in gas decontamination has been organised for nominated officers of local authorities. The course commenced yesterday at the Dublin Corporation Cleansing Dépôt, Stanley street, Dublin, and will continue until the 10th instant. BALLET IN DUBLIN

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—In your issue of July 5th last it was stated by your dancing critic that a "pas seul" arranged and danced by me "bore more than a superficial resemblance" to one performed by another dancer in the Ballet Week, March, 1943.

As long ago as May 22nd, 1940, I performed in the Gaiety Theatre a "pas seul," "Before the Ball," of the same type as the item in question, "The Valentine." This latter I performed first on July 11th, 1942, at the Abbey Theatre, long before Ballet Week, and repeated it unchanged this year. All these shows were reported in your newspaper.—Yours, etc.,

NORA LA GRANGE.

CRUISKEEN LAWN

By Myles Na gCopaleen

ANY person who cares to participate in the examinations conducted by the National University receives a document printed bilingually and headed "Directions to Candidates." For some reason the Irish version—Treoracha d'Iarrthóirí—is headed "Guiding Points for Applicants"; possibly the document was drafted in Irish and the University people are not very good at English. Indeed, this view is supported later on. I read that "the Senate has directed the Examiners at all Examinations to exercise stringency in reference to clearness and accuracy of expression." I invite you to read that sentence three or four times and then ask yourself who is this who is doing the talking. I infer that it is an attempt to say that the examiners have been directed to be strict as to accuracy of expression on the part of candidates. (There is apparently no question of the examiners being asked to express themselves with clearness and accuracy.) The examiners (at all examinations) are to "exercise stringency," forsooth, and "in reference" to "clearness and accuracy of expression." The latter phrase is to provide for exceptional creatures who succeed in expressing themselves accurately but in very fuddled manner, whatever that doesn't mean. Next thing I see is this:

"At the Matriculation Examination special importance will be attached to Grammar and Composition at the Examinations in English."

A very small boy would prefer to say (assuming he has no objection to saying what should be understood by everybody) that importance would be attached to grammar and composition in the Matriculation Examinations in English. What interests me is the implication that grammar and composition do not matter at all (a) if the language is not English, and (b) if it is any examination other than matriculation. This decent Senate has probably no intention of suggesting that grammar and composition are of no importance in, say, Irish, and that gibberish in any "language" will be accepted so long as the examination is an advanced and important one such as a degree examination. The point is that these people who direct examiners to "exercise stringency" as to "clearness and accuracy of expression" are themselves incapable of expressing quite simple concepts correctly.

"Candidates who fail to pass any Examination for which they have entered will be furnished with a Judgment setting out the subject or subjects in which they have been rejected."

Yes faith. I suppose it would be wrong for such a "Judgment" to state or specify, rather than to set out, the subjects because the rules governing "clearness and accuracy of expression" prohibit the use of one word where two can be found to serve the same purpose. But never mind that. I ask you to consider the predicament of candidates who fail to pass an examination for which they have not entered. I remember well the shock I got in 1909 when I received a cablegram telling me that I had failed in Part II. of the Physiology paper in the Matric. of Cairo University. (It was Oriental languages I was doing by correspondence as it happened.)

The Irish version of all this nonsense is what you would expect. In the second paragraph one is confronted with the spectacle of three genitives in a row—fiche nóimit tar éis ama tosnuighthe an agrúdughthe. Then in big type—I translate literally—"at the Matriculation examination, no candidate will be permitted to obtain the examination room." This puzzles me until I realise that the Senate of the University is naturally enough confusing two verbs which are somewhat similar in appearance—faghail and fágail.

Frequently the word suas is used in a way that astonishes a respectable native speaker like myself. You have to do certain things sara dtabharfaidh tú suas your answer books. Ní mor duit na spásanna folamha ar na clúdaigh do líonadh suas go cruinn. Then cuirfidh Tardhearcaidhe (!!! What a shocking improvisation—I could do better meself) na Sgrúduighthe suas i Halla an Sgrúduighthe gach aon eolas, meaning that the Supervisor will post up information in the hall. And síos. "The date stated" is an dáta atá curtha síos!

Notwithstanding all this there are people who will tell you that the University should provide lectures in all faculties in Irish. I wonder would the hoses come out if a public meeting were convened in Earlsfort Terrace to demand that the University should equip itself with a good working knowledge of English.

ARMY ENTERTAINED

The Evening Mail entertained over 1,000 officers and men of the Army at the Theatre Royal yesterday. The function was held under the auspices of the Defence Services' Entertainments Committee. Community singing, with Eddie Byrne and George Rothwell, was a feature. Captain W. Corri, in moving a vote of thanks to the sponsors, pointed out that this matinée completed the series of programmes sponsored by the Dublin newspapers, a lead from the Press which was very much appreciated by the officers and men of the Army.

WEDDINGS

O'DEA—BYRNE—The wedding took place yesterday at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Donnybrook, of Dr. James St. L. O'Dea, son of Professor and Mrs. A. F. O'Dea, Belclare, Strand road, Merrion, and Miss Kathleen Byrne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael P. Byrne, Seaview terrace, Ailesbury road, Dublin. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by the Rev. John Byrne, Maynooth Mission to China (brother of the bride), assisted by the Right Rev. Monsignor D. Moloney, P.P.; the Rev. Joseph Mathews, C.C.; the Rev. Paul O'Dea, S.J., and the Rev. M. Crowe, C.C. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by two matrons of honour, her sisters, Mrs. Sheila McAleer and Mrs. Peggy Ginnell. Mr. James MacClancy was best man. A reception was afterwards held at the bride's home.

GRIFFIN—FOSTER — The wedding took place yesterday at St. Bartholomew's Church, of Mr. Frank E. Griffin, elder son of the late Mr. Robert Griffin, and of Mrs. Griffin, 5 York road, Rathmines, and Miss Gladys Vivien Foster, only daughter of the late Mr. George R. Foster, Brideswell, Co. Wexford, and of Mrs. Foster, 6 Elgin road, Dublin. The Rev. Canon W. C. Simpson officiated. The bride was given away by Mr. S. Hegan, and Mr. W. T. Collier was best man. After a reception, held at 6 Elgin road, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Griffin left for the South of Ireland.

EXTERNAL TRADE

This year it will be 41 millions in an expenditure of 46 millions, leaving a gap of 4½ millions. Existing deficits amount to just over 12 millions by the deduction of abnormal or capital expenditure. The net indebtedness of the State at present is 40½ millions, or approximately £13.6 per head of the population.

EXTERNAL TRADE

Interesting facts on external trade and the position of agriculture are given by Mr. Lemass, who observes that, although agriculture is the principal industry, less than half of the working population now depend on it for a livelihood. With 138 cattle to every 100 of the population, the ratio is the largest for any country in Europe, comparative pre-war figures being: United Kingdom 18, Denmark 85, Holland 32, and France 37; and it goes far to explain why Ireland has the largest export trade in live cattle in the world.

Commenting on a considerable contraction in trade since the outbreak of war—the drop in the total volume was from 74.2 millions to 38.1 million pounds—the Minister points out that Eire, relative to its population, is one of the most important creditor countries in the world, with external holdings averaging about £80 per head of the population in 1938, when an excess of imports was liquidated by a net income from investments of about six millions, from emigrants' remittances three millions, and pensions two and a half millions. Between then and now the volume of trade has decreased by nearly 50 per cent., exports having receded by one-third and imports by nearly two-thirds.

THE CENTRAL BANK

Writing in the same series of Eire's new Central Bank, Mr. Joseph Brennan, Governor of the Bank, notes that the external aspect of the currency problem has a special interest here by reason of the high value of external in proportion to domestic trade, and he says: "The need for a reasonable degree of international currency stability and the creation of conditions likely to secure it are of much concern from the Irish standpoint.

This being so, it is well that the Irish State should have improved its monetary organisation in time to enable it to deal in the most effective way with both the domestic and external elements in an increasingly complex currency situation.

ASSETS ABROAD

Examining the position regarding the Irish balance of payments in relation to the war, Mr. James F. Meenan, who observes that Ireland is a creditor country on an astonishingly large scale, considering its degree of agricultural development, states that the balance of payments, with a recovery of exports, tilted sharply in Eire's favour in 1941, and was presumably still more favourable last year with increased remittances from Irish nationals serving in the forces or in war production, estimated at £2,600,000 from Britain and £1,200,000 from other countries in 1941, with £2,900,000 in payments by the British Government to residents in Ireland. An increase in the banks' net sterling assets from 80.1 millions in '38 to 108 millions last year reflects the reinforcement of external assets.

"It can hardly be suggested that these additional balances abroad should be used to repatriate capital, since the coming of peace will increase imports. But these credits provide a fund for post-war reconstruction by which it is to be hoped the contrast between the ample financial resources of Ireland and her low degree of productivity may be substantially modified."

SUMMER COURSE IN DIETETICS

Irish technical teachers are being given an opportunity to take part in a great movement to raise the general standard of health in all communities, said Dr. J. F. Burke, Senior Inspector of Vocational Schools, in opening the summer course in dietetics in St. Mary's College of Domestic Economy, Cathal Brugha street, yesterday. Seventy vocational education instructresses are attending the course.

Dr. J. F. Burke said that the Department of Education had received 117 applications for admittance—the largest number yet received for any summer course. The science of dietetics had come into its own only within the last twenty years. It had now become of the utmost importance to accept the truth, that many ills could be alleviated or avoided by the observance of correct principles of diet. A recent investigation into health conditions in Great Britain revealed that there were fewer dental defects in areas where simple wholesome diets, based mainly on oatmeal and potatoes, were in operation. In offering the summer course, the Department of Education was placing at the teachers' disposal the means to keep in step with the world in a great movement, which had for its ultimate purpose the raising of the general standard of health in all communities.

The course is being conducted by Professor E. J. Sheehy.

A summer course in rural building construction, which opened yesterday in Bolton Street Technical School, is being conducted by Mr. D. O'Dwyer, B.Arch., head of the Building Trade Department of Technical Schools, Bolton Street.

RECITAL BY CHRISTOPHER LYNCH

A number of Press men and other critics had an opportunity yesterday of hearing Christopher Lynch, the young County Limerick tenor, go through his paces in an informal recital given in the music room of Dr. Vincent O'Brien's residence, 37 Parnell square, Dublin. The recital was an impromptu affair. The young singer sang a number of songs, selected almost in haphazard fashion, and really with the view of letting his hearers appraise the work he has been doing since he gave his recital at the Gaiety Theatre last year. That he has been applying himself earnestly and on the right lines was manifest from the manner in which he presented his songs. The voice itself seems to be broadening, and is admirably produced and under control. That he has nothing to worry about in the matter of range was clear from the easy and convincing way in which he took the C's in alt in Donizetti's "Spirito Gentil."

His singing of a varied group of Lieder by Schumann and Brahms suggests big possibilities in this field, when his studies are more advanced. Good legato singing was heard in "Comfort ye," from Handel's "Messiah," and "Every Valley," from the same work, was also a commendable effort, though he has not yet the breath control to take those long phrases as they should be sung. Save that, there was little with which to find fault.

Apart from his musical studies, Mr. Lynch is applying himself to the study of the French and Italian languages and English literature, and hopes later to acquire a knowledge of German. Working along these lines there is no reason why he should not have a successful career.

LONDON LETTER

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON.
TUESDAY NIGHT.

THE day of "Buttercup Joe" is over, for the old-time grass farms must be brought into rotation by ploughing a proportion of the old turf each year, cropping and then re-seeding, declared Mr. Richard Stratton, Chairman of the Wiltshire County Agricultural Committee, to-day. By doing this the farms would not only provide their share of bread, corn and crops for feeding livestock, but would also carry better cattle and produce more milk. Farmers in Britain would have to become more arable-minded, he added. Victory in agriculture came to those who best adapt themselves to changing circumstances.

6,000 Extra Gallons

One farmer who has certainly adapted himself to changing conditions is Mr. Stephen Truelove, of Ashby Parva, Leicestershire. Before the war he had only one field under the plough, now two-thirds of his land is arable, yet he has increased his milk output by over six thousand gallons a year. His cropping this year is thirty acres of wheat to be sold off, twenty acres of oats and mixed corn for his herd, seven acres of beans, seven of vetches, five of potatoes, five of beet and seven of peas. Mr. Truelove's dairy herd of forty-five is giving a daily output of over 100 gallons.

Canute's Father

An ancient sarcophagus, weighing 3½ tons, and believed to contain the remains of Sweyn, father of King Canute, who was stabbed to death 940 years ago, is being examined by experts at Thetford, Norfolk, who are hoping to find some means of identification. Mrs. F. T. Jameson, a local archæologist who has taken part in excavations on the site of the City of Jerico, is convinced that it is the coffin of the Dane who successfully invaded England with his son, and who was murdered just before he assumed the royal rank and dignity.

South African Elections

Considerable interest is being taken here in the elections for South Africa's new Parliament to-morrow. The problem of the country's future—an independent Afrikaaner Republic, or continuation within the Commonwealth—is still unsettled, as is the other burning question of the black races, to which General Smuts has devoted the greatest attention. There are two million whites and over six million blacks in an area eighteen times the size of Ireland. The old three-cornered stamp of the Cape seems somehow to symbolise the present position—Bantu, Boer, Briton. Each must have his allotted corner of the triangle, each his place in the sun. The late General Hertzog once asked if Africa would not one day become a black Dominion in which South Africa would appear no more than a white spot on the tip of the tail—a tiny bit of fluff in a Kaffir State.

Requiem for Sikorski

Archbishop William Godfrey, the Apostolic Delegate for Great Britain, who was born in Liverpool of Irish parents, was the celebrant to-day of the Requiem at the Polish Church in Islington for General Sikorski. So many people were present that the congregation overflowed down the road. The short address in Polish by Bishop Radonski was heard through amplifiers. The General's body is being brought back to England for formal burial, and will ultimately be transferred to his native soil.

AN IRISHMAN'S DIARY

A Poet at War

From time to time I hear from John Gawsworth, the poet. He is "alive and kicking, and thinks often of 'dear dirty Dublin' and happy days."

It is now some weeks since the publication of his latest book of poems, "Legacy to Love," and the Press notices have been heartening, I gather. Well, it will cheer the writer in his present exile and, I hope, spur him on to further work.

Curiously enough, one very good reviewer compares John to Ernest Dowson in his earlier work, though he has now broken away from that spell. This is very interesting, because at one time Gawsworth was preoccupied with the unfortunate poet, and devoted a brilliant little booklet to clearing away much of the obloquy that still stuck to Ernest Dowson's memory. This small monograph, "The Dowson Legend," gained, if I recollect rightly, the Silver Medal of the Royal Society of Literature for the writer.

Gawsworth belongs to a family long domiciled in Cork, and, I think, still has some property within sound of Shandon Bells.

Baldoyle

A lady correspondent writes:—

Baldoyle Races had a flavour of internationalism on Saturday, due to the presence of the Argentine Ambassador in London and one of his three daughters. The Ambassador is tall, dark and young, and his daughter, like her sisters, is notable for her beauty.

It is always interesting, particularly since we lost our contacts with London and other fashion centres, to see how a stranger looks and dresses in these days. Señhorita Carcano Stella, although she favoured the negligée now so smart, wore stockings and a snood on her hair. Her dress was neat, and very much the jeune fille style.

Lady Moyra Forrester, an ingenue type, was also there; and these two contrasted strongly with the home division.

Room for Play

Not long ago a couple of children appeared in a Dublin court charged with pulling flowers in Stephen's Green. The case was reported under the heading of "vandalism," and the magistrate threatened severe penalties for further offenders.

If I remember aright, somebody pointed out at the time that it was rather hard to penalise children for pulling flowers in the Green, because they had nothing else to do. The idea, however, is rather too revolutionary to gain much popular support. Generally speaking, we think we have done pretty well for a child if we provide a space to enable it to get off the road. The idea that we should provide entertainment in that space is still too advanced.

Yet I wonder how expensive it would be to cut off a corner of the Green for children only; to give them part of the lake, and a sandy beach to play on, and some swings and such like if they could be obtained. Most children, after all, find it more fun to build sand castles than to pull flowers. I commend the scheme to the "high-heid-yins" of the Board of Works.

"Black Stockings"

Yet another female correspondent professes to tell me why nurses are obliged to wear unsightly black stockings.

"Nurses," says she, "are compelled to wear black stockings in order to break their spirit. That being done, they are trained into good nurses. The whole idea of the black stockings is to create the proper mood of humility.

"But," she continues, "they must not be silk stockings. Black silk stockings would not do; they are too smooth. The cashmere stocking clings to the cotton dress and pulls it out of shape, thereby adding to the wearer's grotesqueness—and disciplinary humiliation. That is the idea."

IRISH NEWS IN BRIEF

Meadows Fetch High Prices.—Meadows were sold by auction at Newtownbutler at £13 10/- per acre. This price is equal to the highest paid at any period during the last war.

Galway Harbour Suggestion.—Galway Harbour Board decided yesterday to invite all harbour authorities to hold a conference to decide what they should do to keep Irish harbours operating during the emergency.

L.D.F. Instructor Rescues Guard's Boy.—Sergeant G. Maher, L.D.F. Instructor, dived into Drummond River, Cootehill, County Cavan, and rescued the son of Guard C. Doherty, Cootehill, who had got into difficulties in deep water whilst bathing.

Larne Train Derailed.—A goods train laden with waste paper was derailed on the narrow gauge line near Larne Station early yesterday morning, and half-a-dozen wagons tumbled into the Inver River.

Death from Burns — A verdict that death was due to toxemia and cardiac failure, following extensive burns, was returned at an inquest held by Dr. J. P. Moran, Coroner, at Sligo County Hospital, on Mrs. Honoria Lavin (75), Market street, Ballymote, who was found lying beside the kitchen fire in her home with her clothes in flames.

Building Trade Workers' Application.—The Wages Advisory Tribunal, sitting in Dublin yesterday, Mr. P. J. McEnery, K.C., presiding, heard applications for wages (standard rate) and bonus orders in respect of various classes of building trade workers, other than electricians, employed in specified districts in the Counties Westmeath, Offaly and Kildare. The hearing of the Kildare and Offaly applications was adjourned.

Navan Clerk for Trial.—At a special sitting of the Navan District Court, James Landy, Clerk of Follistown, Navan, was returned for trial on bail, charged with obtaining various sums of money, totalling £257 11/6, from the Meath County Council by false pretences and with forging 57 paying orders issued by the Council and purporting to be made payable to William Brien.

SLIGO TRANSPORT POOL PROTEST

The danger of a fuel shortage in Sligo next winter was foreshadowed at a meeting of the Sligo Merchant Lorry-owners' Association, when strong protests were made against the extension of the North Mayo transport pool to part of the county.

It was pointed out that private lorry-owners were prohibited from entering the Dromore West district in County Sligo, which supplied the town with approximately 75 per cent. of its turf.

Mr. T. Burke, fuel merchant, said he had 700 tons of turf inside the area, which would be a valuable contribution to the town's fuel supply if he were allowed to bring it to Sligo.

Mr. J. Caldwell, Chairman of the Association, said the Mayo pool was the thin end of the wedge towards a nation-wide monopoly for the G.S.R.

The three Sligo deputies—Messrs. M. Roddy, P. J. Rogers and M. Brennan—agreed to call on the Department of Supplies to press for the exclusion of Sligo from the pool.

DUBLIN PRESBYTERY

The Presbytery of Dublin, meeting under the Moderatorship of the Rev. A. M. Dodds, B.A., B.D., Athy, received a deputation from the Board and Trustees of St. Andrew's College. Dr. K. C. Bailey, F.T.C.D., and Mr. Gabriel Brock reported the gratifying progress made in recent years. The Presbytery heard with sympathetic interest the case made for support of the school, and a committee was appointed to further the cause.

The Social Service Convener reported on an inquiry into the effects of the Intoxicating Liquor Act (1943). Reports were made on Missionary Propaganda (Rev. R. C. Gillespie), Sustentation Fund (Mr. W. R. McNab), and Committee for Refugees (Rev. R. Montgomery).

OBITUARY

MARQUESS OF ORMONDE

James Arthur Wellington Foley Butler, Marquess of Ormonde, has died at his residence at Hunton, near Maidstone, Kent, in his ninety-fourth year. Born on 23rd September, 1849, he succeeded his brother as fourth Marquess in 1919, and was Hereditary Chief Butler of Ireland.

MARQUESS OF ORMONDE.

Educated at Harrow and Trinity College, Cambridge, where he took his B.A. in 1871 and M.A. in 1874, he entered the 1st Life Guards, and also served with the Lanarkshire Yeomanry. He was State Steward to the Earl of Carnarvon when the latter was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

In 1880 he unsuccessfully contested the County Kilkenny for Parliamentary honours. He married, in 1887, Ellen, daughter of General Anson Stager, of the United States Army, and had two sons—James George Anson, Earl of Ossory, by whom he is now succeeded; Lord (James) Arthur Norman, and two daughters: Lady Evelyn Frances Butler and Lady Eleanor Rachel Butler.

About ten years ago he sold the furniture and fittings of Kilkenny Castle, which had been for centuries the ancestral home of the Butlers; the sale, which lasted a week and attracted buyers from all parts of Great Britain and Ireland, being conducted by Messrs. Battersby and Co., auctioneers, of Westmoreland street, Dublin.

EDUCATIONAL FILMS

"The theme of the educational film should be simple and truthful," said Miss Elizabeth McGinley, Glasgow, lecturing on "The Making of Educational Films" to the Teachers' Group of the Irish Film Society, at 5 North Earl street, Dublin, last night.

The purely educational film must be able to be believed in without any reservation, she said, and, outlining subjects suitable for infant classes, she advised avoiding fairy stories and nursery rhymes, which were better not illustrated. Historical films, she said, should be avoided, as they are too controversial.

T.D. RESIGNS ARMY COMMISSION

Last night's Iris Oifigiuil announces that Second Lieutenant Liam M. G. Cosgrave has resigned his commission as an officer in the Reserve of Officers, and that the resignation has been accepted by the President, with effect as from 1st July. Mr. Cosgrave, son of Mr. W. T. Cosgrave, T.D., was elected as one of the Deputies for Co. Dublin at the recent election. Members of either House of the Oireachtas are not eligible for the Army.
